Government Rests Conspiracy Case Against Sinclair

PROSECUTION STILL AWAITS TWO RULINGS

Court to Decide Admissibility of Testimony on $35,000 Fall Payment

RECESS UNTIL MONDAY

Young Doheny Subpoenaed
But Defense Objects to Evidence as Immaterial

BY HERBERT LITTLE
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, April 13.—The government today concluded its conspiracy case against Harry F. Sinclair, lessee of Teapot Dome, except for two important bits of evidence on which rulings will be announced Monday.

Young Doheny is expected to arrive here tomorrow, but the trial will recess from today to Monday if Justice Bailey's plans are carried out.

"The government rests," Owen J. Roberts, chief government prosecutor, told the court and jury. The trial was in its fifth day. It took one day to pick the jury and a little over three days to present the government's case.

Adjourn Until Monday

Justice Jennings Bailey then adjourned the court until 9 a. m. Monday.

The government's concluding evidence advised the jury that Albert B. Fall, secretary of interior, who leased the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve to Sinclair, asked neither Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty nor the solicitor of the interior department, E. S. Booth, for an opinion as to whether the lease was valid.

The government will get a final ruling Monday on whether it can introduce testimony concerning $35,000 paid by Sinclair to former Secretary Fall in connection with a concession hunting trip to Russia. Justice Bailey held temporarily today it was probably inadmissible, but gave the government opportunity to reoffer on Monday, when he will rule indefinitely.

Klan Defeated In Suit Against Five 'Rebels'

Organization and Principles Bitterly Scored in Court Opinion

(By United Press)

PITTSBURGH, April 13.—The Ku Klux Klan lost its suit in federal court today against five "rebel" members when Judge W. H. S. Thomson ruled that the organization could not collect damages from nor secure a restraining injunction against the defendants.

The Klan had brought suit in 1913 to collect $100,000 damages from each of the five defendants and secure an injunction to prevent the members from using the name of the organization or interfering with its operation.

Judge Thomson in his opinion bitterly scored the "invisible empire" and its principles. He held that the organization came into court with filthy hands and therefore deserved no consideration from the court.

He held that it is an unlawful

In his opinion the judge charged that the Klan "is directly responsible for the breaking down of the fundamental principles upon which our government is founded."

BELIEVE LINDBERGH ENROUTE TO EAST

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., April 13.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and two passengers took off in his new Ryan monoplane at 12:10 p. m. today, for an unannounced destination, believed to be St. Louis or some eastern city.

While Lindbergh preserved his usual reticence regarding his plans, a friend of one of his companions said the colonel was returning to St. Louis. The report could not be confirmed.

Lindbergh was accompanied by Harry Hall Knight and Harold Bixby. All three carried luggage to the plane, indicating that their visit here was completed.

BIRGER EXECUTION ORDERED STAYED

BENTON, Ill., April 13.—Charlie Birger, southern Illinois gang lord, has escaped for four days, at least, the gallows on which he was to have been hanged this morning.

The Franklin county circuit court last night granted a four-day stay of execution to permit a hearing on his sanity.

Mulholland, the report found, was guilty of an error in judgment in constructing such a dam on such an underpinning.

The water department, the various bodies of municipal government and the public were at fault for permitting a situation to arise where one man—in this instance, Mulholland—passed on all matters.

Responsibility for the disaster was placed generally on William Mulholland, 73-year-old chief engineer of the water department, the water department, the municipal government and the public.

'Insidious' Use Of Funds Hit By Alabaman

Wants Action on Resolution To Investigate Primary Expenditures

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, charged in a speech before the senate today that "the Al Smith campaign fund is the most corrupt ever used in a presidential race."

"Large amounts of money have been used secretly and insidiously in Oklahoma and Iowa," Heflin charged.

"This Smith crowd can give them all lessons in methods of concealing their campaign expenditures. I want to see Senator Borah get action on his resolution to investigate presidential primary funds. I want to get the Smith crowd here to testify about their expenses."

"I want to get Jimmy Walker first. He is the slickest eel in the pond."

Senator Steck, Democrat, Iowa, interrupted Heflin to deny that funds were improperly used on either side in the Iowa primary race.

Heflin objected to Steck's interruption on the ground that "it takes him too long to pronounce the word 'Iowa.'"

NO CHARGES TO BE PREFERRED IN DAM BREAK

District Attorney to Follow Recommendations of Inquest Jury

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, April 13.—The findings of the coroner's jury will be followed and no criminal prosecution will result from the collapse of the great St. Francis dam, the district attorney's office announced today.

Deputy District Attorney Dennis, who directed presentation of the facts of the disaster to the jurors, declared he believed the verdict would be "honest, thorough and fearless." He said no attempt would be made to prosecute anyone in connection with the dam break.

The jury returned its verdict last night within a few hours of one month from the time the St. Francis crumbled and sent 12,000,000,000 gallons of water 65 miles through the Santa Clara river basin.

It was a few minutes after midnight, March 13, that the flood broke from St. Francisquito canyon and swept more than 300 people to death.

Defective Foundation

The cause of the break, the verdict said, was the defective foundation which dam was constructed. The design of the concrete barrier was not adequate to this inferior rock base.

Responsibility for the disaster was placed generally on William Mulholland, 73-year-old chief engineer of the water department, the water department, the municipal government and the public.

DEFINITE ANNOUNCEMENT OF SALE OF PARKINSON ISLAND TO SALES SYNDICATE MADE

COSTA MESA, April 13.—Definite announcement of the sale of Parkinson Island, in Newport harbor, was made at a meeting of the Orange County Coast association here last night. The announcement was made by David G. Duncan, sales manager for the new syndicate which has taken over the 110-acre island. The name of the island will be changed to Lido Isle, Duncan reported.

An intimation that Marco Hellman, prominent Los Angeles banker, might be interested in the new syndicate was given when it was announced that a 55-foot cruiser, owned by the banker, would be brought to Newport bay to take prospective customers to the island.

Comb Italy For Trace Of Bombers

(By United Press)

MILAN, Italy, April 13.—Forces of law searched Italy today for authors of a plot to assassinate King Victor Emmanuel while public opinion reassured the monarch of his subjects' loyalty.

The official death toll resulting from the explosion yesterday of a powerful electric grenade bomb, hidden in the base of a scrolled lamp post in the Piazza Giulio Cesare, mounted to 16 today. Of the 40 seriously injured five were expected to die. Unofficial reports said the death toll had mounted to 23.

Among the first to renew his expression of loyalty to the king was Benito Mussolini, the administrative ruler of Italy.

Plans for the development of Lido Isle were announced by Duncan. He declared that special building restrictions would be established on the island and that a board of expert city planners would approve the plans of all buildings before construction is allowed to start.

Lease Clubhouse

The syndicate has secured a lease on the Southern Seas Clubhouse on the bay front in Balboa and will use the club as headquarters during the summer, it was reported by David W. Miller and Harry Welch, representatives of the syndicate.

That plans are being completed which will result in the construction of a large hotel on the island was the announcement made by John R. Case, advertising manager for the syndicate. Case reported that the hotel would be situated at the eastern end of the Isle. The sales campaign is expected to start within the next few weeks. Little definite information regarding the proposition was given at the meeting as the plans of the syndicate are yet in a state of formation. No name has yet been selected by the organization, it was reported.

Two resolutions, one asking county supervisors to take steps to carry out the Orange county program in the construction of the Elsinore-San Juan Capistrano highway over the Santa Ana mountains were adopted by the coast association. The resolution

LOS ANGELES, April 13.—Information that C. E. Morris, held here as a kidnapping suspect, abducted his own son from his wife, an Oklahoma Indian girl, was being investigated by police today. Morris, with Robert "Kid" Corbett, pugilist, Maybelle Corbett, and Peggy Larkin, was arrested yesterday, near San Fernando, and accused of kidnapping George Olhausen for $10,000 ransom.

According to authorities, Morris spirited his 5-year-old son from the Indian girl, Mrs. Frances Morris, in Kansas City three months ago. Morris attempted to obtain ransom from his wife, but the plot was frustrated by an underworld enemy.

U. S. SUGGESTS WAR OUTLAWRY FOR 6 NATIONS

By MAURICE A. HALLGREN (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Despite French opposition to a sweeping, unqualified renunciation of war, the United States today proposed that the six great world powers and other interested governments join in a treaty forever outlawing war of every description as among themselves.

This proposal was embodied in a note, copies of which were simultaneously delivered by the American ambassadors to the foreign offices in London, Berlin, Rome and Tokio.

Accompanying the communication was a preliminary draft of a pact "representing in a general way the form of a treaty which the government of the United States is prepared to sign." The draft is a simple declaration by which the signatory governments would "condemn recourse to war for the solution of international controversies and renounce it as an instrument of national policy in their relations with one another."

Under Article 2, the government would "agree that the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be, which may arise among them, shall never be sought except by pacific means."

The remaining article states that the treaty shall become effective as soon as the six powers have ratified it.

France Also To Propose Anti-War Treaty

PARIS, April 13.—France has informed England, Germany, Italy and Japan that she soon will communicate her own proposed anti-war treaty, representing the French viewpoint.

The French asked the four governments not to make a decision on the U. S. anti-war project before they had received the French proposal.

Reported Over Mines Basin At 11:15 A. M.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The Commercial Cable company, at 12:30 p. m., today received a report from its station at Canso, N. S., saying that a report had been received there to the effect that the German airplane "Bremen" had passed over Mines basin at 11:15 a. m.

Report Places 'Bremen' 'Off Newfoundland'

NAHANT, Mass., April 14.—An entirely unconfirmed radio report, intercepted by the Coast Guard station here this morning, said that a plane believed to be the "Bremen" was sighted "off Newfoundland" at 5:30 a. m., eastern standard time today.

According to the Nahant station, the message was sent from a ship at sea to the Radio Corporation of America station at Chatham.

Efforts to verify the report were not successful.

Details of the intercepted message were not disclosed by the Nahant station, officials of which were inclined to doubt the authenticity of the report.

Word from the Boston navy yard was that the same message had been intercepted here, but naval officials also appeared to place little faith in it.

with only vague and unconfirmed reports to indicate the flight across the North Atlantic from Ireland had been successful.

At 4:38 p. m., when 40 hours had passed since the three aviators flew away from Dublin in their all metal monoplane, there were only two reports to give hope to a waiting world that they were not lost. One was a dispatch from Kingsport, N. S., saying the captain of a Canadian steamer and other persons had seen a plane flying over the town at 9:30 a. m., eastern standard time.

The other—and this aroused new hope for the safety of the flyers—was from officials of the North German Lloyd line had received a report from their Bangor, Me., representative that he saw an airplane which he believed to be the "Bremen" over Bangor at 1 p. m.

Planned 36-Hour Flight

The plane's three masters—Baron Ehrenfried Günther Von Huenlein, Capt. Hermann Koehl and Col. James E. Fitzmaurice—hoped to land on Long Island within 36 hours, or about 1 p. m., today.

That schedule would have placed the "Bremen" over Newfoundland about last midnight.

There was a possibility that the flyers were thrown off their course by adverse winds.

Traveling at an average speed of 90 miles an hour, they should have arrived at Mitchel field, 3165 miles from Baldonnel airdrome, by 1 p. m. If head winds reduced their speed to 80 miles an hour, the trip should take about 40 hours, landing them in Long Island at 5 p. m. If the head winds were so strong that the plane's speed was reduced to 75 miles an hour, they would not arrive until 7 p. m.

With a speed as low as 75 miles an hour, the plane should have touched St. Johns already—assuming the flyers still are in the air and have not been taken off their course. It is about 2000 miles from Baldonnel to St. Johns, or 26½ hours at a 75-mile-an-hour average.

May Have Stayed Off Coast

One course Captain Koehl considered—if head winds buffeted the "Bremen" over the Atlantic—would have taken the plane 250 miles off the Newfoundland coast.

If that course was followed it was unlikely the plane would be seen or heard from until it was well down the U. S. coast, sometime this morning or afternoon.

The plane carried 660 gallons of gasoline, enough to keep it aloft for 45 hours.

of construction.

The jurors pointed out that a sound policy of public safety demands that the construction and operation of a great dam should never be left to the sole judgment of one man, regardless of his eminence.

Three Recommendations
The verdict offered three major recommendations affecting dam building and maintenance in the future.

1. The revision of all municipal and county regulation governing the building of dams so that construction and operation be subject to review by competent experts.

2. That all dams be examined immediately by an impartial board of experts.

3. That state laws be changed so that the building of dams by city or county will be under supervision of the state.

Discussing William Mulholland, who, in his half century of work for the water department, built the entire Los Angeles water system, the jurors declared that there was every reason for a high confidence to be placed in him, but pointed out that all humans are subject to error.

Limited Experience
Mulholland had a background of distinguished achievement in the building of a great water works system, including 17 earth and rock fill dams, the jury explained, but he had limited experience in the construction of large masonry or concrete dams and as a result serious errors were made.

When he testified at the coroner's inquest, Mulholland told the jury that "if there is any human blame for his dam break, then the blame is mine."

The special geological investigating committee, appointed by the Bureau of Power and Light, and the last committee of its kind to report, upheld previous findings and declared the St. Francis dam failed because of the weaknesses in the foundation under the eastern and western buttresses of the structure.

CONDENMED PAIR GRANTED REPRIEVE

SALEM, Ore., April 13.—James Willos and Ellsworth Kelly, condemned convicts, learned today that they were to live through Friday the 13th. The pair, to have been executed here today, were granted a last minute reprieve by Gov. I. L. Patterson, and with it their hopes for life flamed anew.

It was the fourth time that justice, acting somewhat as the toying of a cat playing with a mouse, reached out and snatched the youth from the hangman's clutch.

Willos and Kelly were convicted for the murder of Milton Holman and John Sweeney, during a prison break.

Local Briefs*HARRY MAPES GETS 2 YEARS IN S. A. JAIL

Harry C. Mapes put over a fast one on J. W. Schwab and Thomas D. McKeahan, with whom he once was associated in the automobile business at Anaheim, Schwab admitted today when he testified at a probation hearing before Superior Judge James L. Allen, who sentenced Mapes to a two year term in the county jail.

Even the court admitted that he was unable to follow the details of the financial maneuvering which Schwab said Mapes had carried on while manager of the concern, and which culminated in his disappearing several months ago with a $1700 sedan.

Schwab and McKeahan were placed on the stand by Deputy District Attorney S. B. Kaufman and District Attorney Z. B. West Jr., and were cross-examined here. Mrs. Austin's mother, Mrs. Valla, of Whittier and other members of her family, numbering 35 were the guests.

H. E. Douglas took his son, Billy, who has been spending his vacation with his father, back to Lancaster Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Hills of Pomona, spent Saturday evening with the L. M. Walkers.

POLY GRADUATES TO USE CAP AND GOWN

Students who will graduate from the Santa Ana high school will wear caps and gowns, it was announced yesterday following a vote by the class, which was almost unanimous, in favor of the graduating regalia.

A meeting to settle the "which to wear" question was held yesterday afternoon with Cliff Belding presiding. Lynn Crawford, class advisor was also present for the discussion. Twenty students wore the caps and gowns in order that the class might better judge their merits and disadvantages.

At the same time it was decided to hold both the commencement and baccalaureate services on the lawn in front of the high school.

A system of lighting will be especially arranged for the occasion.

Baccalaureate services will be

THIS CONSCIENTIOUS CITIZEN HAS P. O. INTERESTS AT HEART

Santa Ana's citizens aren't going to allow any bold, bad bandit to hold up Santa Ana's post office.

It was this protective attitude which sent one of the above mentioned citizens flying to the police station to return a few moments later with the police force "to save our post office."

Here's how it happened:

Paul Ladiges, a member of the post office force, was returning to the post office after delivering some registered mail. Ladiges always carries a revolver on such a mission. When he entered the third street entrance to the building he drew the gun from the holster.

SAM HURWITZ RETURNS FROM EASTERN TRIP*GRIEVANCE DAY PROGRAM HELD BY LIONS CLUB

Sam Hurwitz returned today from a 30 day business trip east and south, during which time he touched manufacturing centers and bought fall goods for his store here, along with a few purchases of spring goods for immediate delivery.

The Santa Ana man was in Chicago on two different occasions, and on his first he had the privilege of witnessing a street fight between representatives of the political factions there and as he passed through that city Sunday saw a place that was to have been the location of a polling booth in Tuesday election on fire, the result of a bomb explosion.

Business in the sections he visited was none too brisk, Hurwitz said. Factories were none too active, and the Santa Ana merchant observed that raw materials in the woolen and leather lines were advancing, with the market being strictly a seller's market.

Hurwitz's itinerary included stops at Washington, D. C., Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis and New York.

"To me the best part of my trip was when I glimpsed on my approach to San Bernardino orange trees and flowers," the merchant said.

L. B. ARRESTED ON DRIVING CHARGE

Betty E. Carl, 22, 1238 East Fourth street, Long Beach, was arrested near Westminster yesterday afternoon by F. G. Yoder, state traffic officer, and lodged in the county jail on a charge of reckless driving and failure to have a driver's permit.

She was later released when she made bail of $250 for her appearance in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court on April 20, at 10 a.m.

According to Yoder, the Carl woman was driving from one side of the road to the other. He claimed she had never applied for a driver's license.

Druggists Fined In Local Court

Charged with failure to comply with the state pharmacist laws, George Merrick and H. F. Fuller, druggists of Costa Mesa each were fined $20 in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court today.

Merrick, proprietor of the Costa Mesa Pharmacy was charged with employing a druggist in charge who did not have a state license, and Fuller was charged with filling prescriptions without being licensed.

Both paid their fines.

ORANGE COUNTY WEBER BAKING PLANT

Grand opening of the new plant of the Weber Baking company on the state highway between Santa Ana and Anaheim will be held this evening at the plant. Below is a good likeness of J. W. Costello, president of the company.

Open House Will Be Held Evening and Program Is Planned

The Weber Baking company's $150,000 plant on the state highway opposite the Orange county fair grounds will be thrown open evening for inspection by the public, it was announced today by officials of the company.

Officials of Santa Ana, of the county, and of other municipalities have signified their intention of participating. Various civic organizations also will be represented.

The plant, it is said, will be one of the brightest spots in Orange county tomorrow evening, for the building will be decorated with variegated lights, while powerful searchlights will illuminate the sky.

The new bakery is said to be the last word in speed and efficiency, and those attending the opening will have the opportunity to see this equipment in operation. Guides will conduct visitors through the plant explaining the various steps in the manufacture of bread.

Pointing out that the plant has been erected to serve Orange county patrons, an official said that everything required to meet the ideals of the officials of the company had been installed in the plant.

CHANDLER FURNITURE STORE COMPLETELY REMODELED IN FORMAL OPENING SATURDAY

Completing alterations that have given Chandler's a store that will compare favorably with any in Southern California in point of arrangement, convenience, light, display room and floor space, the management of the Chandler furniture store, at Main and Third streets, today was preparing for the formal opening tomorrow of its new and enlarged quarters.

The magnificent display of house furnishings will be on exhibition all day and until late in the evening. A stringed orchestra will provide music from 3 to 5:30 p.m., and from 7 to 9 p.m. The popularity of the store throughout Orange county, and the high esteem in which it is held by residents in every district in the county, will be reflected in the large number of men and women who will come from these sections to inspect the new home of Chandler's and congratulate the management on its big accomplishment.

Pioneer Firm

The firm is the pioneer furniture organization of the county and its continued growth has reflected the keen appreciation of service and quality goods demanded by Ray Chandler and James Harding, who have directed the concern for many years. Harding, who is manager of the big enterprise, has been with Chandler's for 28 years, and is conceded one of the best posted men on furniture engaged in the business in Southern California. What Harding declares to be one of the finest displays of Oriental rugs he ever has seen will be on special exhibit on the opening day.

The windows on the third street side are smaller in size, but large enough to show to advantage any setting the firm may decide on.

Hand Carved

Pointing out that Chandler's specializes in the products of the Grand Rapids factory of Berkey and Gay, Harding said that for the opening tomorrow, the south window on Main street will contain a bedroom suite of exceptional beauty and service. It is a set consisting of genuine hand-carving on walnut.

Particular attention has been given to artificial lighting, with the result that lighting engineers have declared the store one of the best lighted in Southern California. The system has been installed at a cost of $5000. In the section devoted to rugs, where new floor and wall racks have been introduced, flood lights have been arranged to play on the rugs so that a prospective purchaser may have the advantage of bright lights for complete inspection.

REARRANGEMENT

Rearrangement of the store has made it possible to more completely departmentize the big stock, and this will be a convenience to patrons.

Three Floors

The three floors are replete with displays of the very latest creations in furniture and of the type of quality that has made Chandler's one of the large furniture concerns of the city and county. Indicating the variety that one may choose from in the various types of household furnishings, the manager said that the concern is displaying over 50 dining and bedroom suites.

Police News

Charged with speeding 34 miles an hour in a school zone on South Main street, this morning, W. Wayne Sloss, Pasadena, was arrested by City Traffic Officer B. A. Hershey.

Eight persons were fined $2 each in police court yesterday on charges of overtime parking. They were: C. Lambert, M. Sismonie, E. T. Baird, L. G. Bishop, J. A. Green, W. J. Engleman, A. Hoffmann and R. Kennedy.

Hal Ritter, charged with parking his automobile in a loading zone, was given a $2 fine in police court yesterday.

A burglar was reported seen in the Chevrolet garage, 117 North Sycamore street, last night, but escaped before officers arrived, according to a report filed at the city police station.

ASKS POLICE AID IN FINDING SISTER

Mrs. J. J. Schaeffer, Berkeley woman, who was formerly Miss Annie Staffler, appealed to Chief of Police Claude Rogers today to aid her in finding a step-sister and a brother, whom she believes live in Santa Ana and with whom she is anxious to establish communication.

The sister-in-law is Mrs. Si Wright, who formerly was Miss Mary Pet Thomson, and the brother is Baker America Thomson. Mrs. Schaeffer wrote that she had seen neither of them for the past 28 years.

The trio lived as a family in Coronado a number of years ago, she wrote.

S. A. LEGION POST IS ENTERTAINED

Entertainment featured the meeting of the Santa Ana post, American Legion, held at the Legion home on Birch street, last night. Entertainers from the Bear cafe staged the program which included the two Day sisters, Betty and Doris, in songs and dances; Tommy Leonard, entertainer; Jack Nash, saxophone; Joe Keith, banjo; Myron Collins, drums, and King Brady, piano.

Announcement was made that the auxiliary of the post would give a jamboree dinner at the county fair grounds on the night of April 27, the proceeds of which to go to the Boy Scouts.

Prior to the meeting, Legion members were served a dinner by the auxiliary.

MAN ARRESTED ON CHECK ACCUSATIONS

Charged with issuing two fictitious checks, one for $5 and one for $10, Edward Sewell, 18, 1008 East Pine street, Santa Ana, was taken into custody by Officers Smithwick and Adams, last night, and is being held in the county jail.

According to officers, the two checks were cashed here last Monday, the Smart and Final wholesale grocery company receiving one of the checks, the other being cashed at a Safeway grocery store.

Sewell was arrested when he attempted to cash a third check yesterday afternoon, it was said. This check was for $15.

The trio lived as a family in Coronado a number of years ago, she wrote.

A Column of News and Views of Santa Ana People Conducted by Mair Hardware

You must make your own way if you really want to have it.

A good laugh is like a ray of sunshine.

WORLD'S GREATEST LIE "Present company excepted, of course."

Most of what we know about Hardware we learned from a chap named "Experience."

Mr. Paxton says he wonders why the real estate men don't keep the property and make the money themselves.

Did you know that you can buy Bunnstool Standard Paint, any color, for two sixty-five a gallon?

Among the achievements that cause the most anxious thought at the beginning is a mustache.

There never was a product made (this truth you must confess) but what some bird could make it worse and sell his stuff for less.

Nothing worth while is easily obtained. If the cork comes out easily the label is a liar.

Music Entertainment Services

SINCE the beginning of 1928 we have been busily engaged in rebuilding, enlarging, and redecorating our store. Three months have passed, and now we are ready to receive and entertain our friends upon the occasion of our formal opening tomorrow.

The growth of this city and trading area and the steady increase in the volume of our business required expansion. Consequently our plans included the acquisition of the entire second floor of the building, which now gives us three large floors for the purpose of the efficient display of home furnishings.

This expansion is an important advantage, not to be appreciated by us alone, but also by our patrons. Adequate space and interesting arrangements of displays enables you to better visualize the settings for various types of home interiors. The environment of the store is one of restful beauty and shopping pleasure.

PROGRESS . . .

The whole store—without and within, has taken on a new air which is indicative of progressiveness. Progress is the reward of straightforward business methods and policies, which have prevailed continuously for a score and ten years—since the founding of this enterprise by Mr. Ira Chandler. There are those who can remember our first store. They can tell you of the march of commercial endeavor in Santa Ana and Orange County—of business enterprises which have come and gone. Numbered among those remaining is Chandlers. It is with great pride that we can point to the fact of having progressed with the city—the county—the evolution of building and furnishing of homes—having kept pace with the development of Southern California which has made such wonderful strides during the last decade. This building stands, not only as a tribute to the ideals of its founder, but also as a symbol of "integrity in business" to all with whom we have had the pleasure of becoming acquainted in a business way and for whom we have had the opportunity of extending a service conducive to well arranged, happy home interiors.

RESPONSIBILITY . . .

Tasks well done, are forerunners of greater accomplishments. The expansion of this store gives opportunity for the expression, to a fuller capacity, of our service to the people of Santa Ana, Orange County, and elsewhere. The store—and that includes each and every individual of this organization—has taken on greater responsibilities. It may be said that this comes, not only as a natural sequence of expansion, but as a demand from the public itself. To be in closer touch with the developments of modern homes as relates to furnishings and interior decorations; to anticipate the desires of individuals and family groups; to study carefully the results of research carried on continuously by manufacturers and furniture marts both at home and abroad; to give to home furnishers an intelligent and helpful interpretation of our findings in this field; to extend to all a most complete and extraordinary service—that is our greater responsibility. We pledge ourselves in an endeavor at all times to be worthy and capable of fulfilling our obligations to the public—and to bear our greater responsibilities with a purpose—that of building an even more eminent institution and a more enviable reputation.

ACHIEVEMENT . . .

This store is attracting wide attention because of certain definite accomplishments which, in sum total, constitute real achievement. Here is a merchandising institution, founded upon the solid rock of service and value-giving, and dedicated to the promulgation of better and happier homes. The home is the basis of social life—the warp and woof of civilization. Its success depends largely upon the degree of compatibility of family groups. Harmonious home interiors exert no small influence upon mental dispositions leading to harmony and pleasurable relations among individuals.

It is apparent, then, that our obligations are not fulfilled until we have supplemented commercial transactions with a service of advisory nature, which assists our patrons in selecting the type of furnishings best suited to the character of their homes.

To be able to render a service of this kind is recognized as an art. Each individual of our sales organization has achieved the mastery of this art—therefore expertly capable of performing this feature service.

WILL INSPECT BURNED AREA IN MOUNTAINS

Councilmen J. L. McBride and W. G. Knox and City Engineer Clyde Jenken have been named a committee to represent the city council on an inspection trip of the burned over area in the Santa Ana river to be made on Thursday next week under the direction of the California Development association, Tri-Counties Reforestation committee, San Bernardino County Board of Forestry and the Riverside County Board of Forestry.

SIGHTSEEING BY PLANE

NEW YORK, April 13.—Visitors of the metropolis soon will be able to see the "sights" from the clouds. In addition to the pilot and passengers, provisions will be made for the proverbial ballyhoo man, who will point out interesting sky views to the customers.

U. S. SPONSORS ACTIVITIES OF COL. LINDBERGH

By HERBERT LITTLE
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Col.

Charles A. Lindbergh has become one of the most important and influential government officials, in an unofficial way. He is serving half a dozen government departments directly and in advisory capacities, and has qualified as a super-lobbyist and salesman for the idea of commercial aviation, in addition to his "flying ambassadorship."

The departments of state, commerce, the post office, war and navy have employed his services directly in the last few months. Dwight Morrow, U. S. ambassador at Mexico City, is credited with responsibility for the invitation which resulted in Lindbergh's nonstop flight to Mexico City, which caused new expressions of good will between the two American republics and led to the flyer's triumphal tour of South and Central American countries.

Lindbergh has appeared before three congressional committees here advocating bills to provide more pay for military flyers and to provide for extending the congressional frank to the airmail.

Practically all of Lindbergh's activities since his arrival in Paris have been under direct government sanction. It was at the government's request that he returned immediately on the cruise. Memphis, instead of following his original idea of seeing the world from an airplane. The flyer himself disclosed this after his return.

The Guggenheim foundation for the Promotion of Aeronautics has officially sponsored his flights in the United States, but the government has been active through its many agencies in promoting his ventures. The commerce department provided as escort plane, mechanic and secretaries for his nation-wide tour in the Spirit of St. Louis in which he visited every state to make speeches in promotion of aviation.

Lindbergh's recent sightseeing tours for members of congress and diplomats in Washington, in which he set a record by transporting more than 1100 persons in seven days, were arranged by the commerce department. Assistant Secretary William P. MacCracken, civil aviation chief, personally acting as dispatcher for the flights.

The army and the navy each furnished a huge transport plane for use in this venture, and the army provided field facilities which virtually stopped their regular military flying for a week. Most of the Washington notables who flew had never before gone up, and the undertaking is regarded by friends of aviation as one of the most effective bits of aviation promotion ever done.

All of which goes to show that the tall young man from Minnesota meant what he said when he announced, after his return to the United States, that his life was dedicated to aviation. It is certain that his realization of his potentialities for the promotion of aviation has turned his entire future activities, for many years at least, into this one channel. He may not make large sums of money, but his friends believe he will accomplish much toward attaining the end he has set for his goal—the further development and increased public support of aviation.

MASS MEETING AT CITY HALL TONIGHT

Representatives from service clubs and civic organizations will meet tonight at the city council chambers to further plans for parks and playgrounds in Santa Ana, Bruce Switzer, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced today.

The proposed utilization of the Olive street reservoir site as an athletic field will receive the attention of the gathering, it was reported.

The session will begin at 7:30 p.m. and everyone interested in the development of parks is urged by Switzer to be present.

BREA

BREA, April 13.—Two Brea girls, the Misses Evelyn Harvey and Dorothy Forbes, both students at Fullerton Junior college, will represent that institution at the Y. W. C. A. convention which is being held in Sacramento.

Dr. Glenn Curtis will officiate as toastmaster at the Monday evening meeting of the Toastmasters' club at the Mission Inn, Fullerton. Miss Ada Williams, recently selected as queen of the Anaheim Valencia Orange show, is to be a guest as is Winifred Barnett, Brea-Olinda high school student, who will deliver her "Constitution" essay at that time.

W. L. Smalley, of Alta Loma, who purchased a lot on South Laurel street recently, is erecting a five room modern stucco house on it.

Massey & Bystone, local building contractor, secured the work of putting in the cement foundation. Mr. Smalley is superintending the building of the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Sandman are happy over the arrival of an eight-pound daughter at their home, April 9, making the second child in the Sandman home. The other daughter, Marjorie, is now five years old. Both the mother and baby are doing nicely at the home of Mrs. Sandman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Shaffer.

Mrs. Dorothy Vanderberg, president of the Laurel P. T. A. announces the regular meeting of the association at the Laurel grammar school Tuesday afternoon.

Postponement of the regular meeting of the literary section of the Brea Woman's club has been made to May 1, at the home of

W. L. Smalley, of Alta Loma.

RESIDENTS OF OLIVE STREET OPPOSE GAMES

Residents and property owners in the vicinity of the Olive street reservoir, in a group meeting at the Lutheran church, last night, unanimously voted opposition to use of the Olive reservoir site for night baseball games.

An organization was created for the betterment of conditions in the neighborhood and L. B. Anderson, 718 North Baker, was elected president, and James O'Brien, 1904 West Sixth street, was chosen secretary.

It was brought out at the meeting that the group is not opposed to the program of the Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce for promotion of a park on the site and the acquisition of additional property necessary to create an attractive "breathing spot."

A committee consisting of Anderson, O'Brien, J. A. Gadjezki and Newell Crouse, was appointed to attend a joint meeting of the council chambers tonight of committees representing the junior chamber, the Orange County Building Exchange and American Legion for discussion of plans for the improvement. The meeting last night did not endorse the proposed conversion of the reservoir into a coliseum, but endorsement was given the general program of the junior chamber.

Whether a petition will be circulated and presented at the city council Monday night opposing granting of a permit to the Santa Ana Night Baseball association, was to be determined today by officers of the organization.

Bruce Switzler, president of the junior chamber, today emphasized the point that anyone interested in the project of a big park at Olive and Sixth would be welcome to the meeting at the council chambers, scheduled to start at 7:30 o'clock.

Champion Indian Runner In Contest

GRANTS PASS, Ore., April 13.—Mad Bull, 19-year-old Karook Indian, who won the 1927 480-mile Redwood Highway Indian marathon between San Francisco and this city, will re-enter the 1928 race under the colors of the Grants Pass "Cavemen," a booster organization.

Flying Cloud, tribesman of Mad Bull and another finisher in the (Adv.)

1927 race will also enter for the contest.

"Bill" Hayward, track coach and trainer at University of Oregon, has consented to train the young redskins and accompany them on the 48-mile grind, which, unlike the cross-country "Bunyon Derby," is a straight race, the first to cross the line being considered the winner and each man having to sleep and eat as best he may.

LOCAL JACIANS WILL TAKE IN STATE MEETING

A large delegation of Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce members, accompanied by their wives, will attend the meeting of the California Junior Chamber of Commerce Saturday night at the Southern Seas club, Balboa, Bruce Switzer, president of the local organization, announced today.

The group will meet at the club at 4:30 p. m. and will be taken for a boat ride over the bay, according to E. Merlin Hussong, Santa Ana, president of the California Jacians. Dinner will be served at the club at 6:30 p. m. and an entertainment arranged by Paul Ragan, of Santa Ana, featuring an all girls orchestra led by Miss Nellie Mai Chapman, will be heard.

While the men are attending to the business of the meeting, the women will be guests of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce at the new Ritz theater at the showing of a special film. After the business meeting the men and women will be guests of the chamber and the Rendezvous ballroom management at a dance.

Arrangements for the affair were made by George C. Macleod, secretary of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce.

Delegates and their wives also are expected from Modesto, San Francisco, San Diego, Long Beach, Los Angeles and several other communities, according to Hussong, who will preside over the business session. Switzer will have charge during the dinner and entertainment features.

Rare Treasures Found In Russia

MOSCOW, April 13.—Archaeologists at the Kremlin museum here are studying a collection of gold, silver and diamond ornaments recently unearthed in the village of Bolshoi Kamenetz in the province of Kursk.

A large number of the village children, while playing near the river, dug up several articles which they brought to their school teacher. They turned out to be a gold necklace with pendants, studded with diamonds and a number of gold chains two meters long.

An investigation by the authorities disclosed that many of the villagers had in their possession similar finds; gold leaf, ornate plates, valuable glassware. A collection was made for the Kremlin museum.

Experts judge that these objects belong to the fourth or third centuries A. D. if not even earlier.

BOY SCOUTS TO PICK UP CARDS HERE SATURDAY

Boy Scouts of Santa Ana will be on the run tomorrow. Anyone would be a sprinter, according to Roland Dye, scout executive, if he had the job of covering the entire community to pick up between 4000 and 5000 clean-up campaign record cards.

Some of the boys say there is another reason for keeping their heels in motion. It was revealed today that somewhere in the city there is an ogre who eats small boys who are helping the Junior Chamber of Commerce put over the beautification movement by collecting the cards. This ogre, it is reported, is not a real person, but really is old man Time.

The old gent is so busy he hasn't a minute or so to open the door and hand his card to the scout who has come to collect it.

Ridley Smith, chairman of the clean-up committee, said today that he has been trying to trace the old fellow down to find out where he lives, but so far has been unsuccessful. Nevertheless a sort of legend has grown up around the be-whiskered ogre and most of the boys are afraid that he lives in the district they are covering, Smith said with a chuckle. That's why they are going to move so fast when they get out after the cards tomorrow, he explained.

Considering this situation, he suggested that everyone whose clean-up card has not been picked, can aid the scouts by leaving it where they can grab it on the run. Tomorrow is the last day for collection, he announced. The cards will be judged on Monday.

No one knows yet just which scout will win first prize for turning in the first complete report, according to Miss Mabel Larick, at scout headquarters. A number of boys have turned in their cards, but the judges will not know who is the winner until Monday.

It was further pointed out that every scout has a chance to win credit on a public service medal by bringing in his cards, even though he may not win first place.

URGE MEMBERS ATTEND MEET COUNTY P.-T. A.

By MRS. NEAL BEISEL

Fourth District Press Chairman
All members of Parent-Teacher associations are urged to attend the annual convention of the Fourth District, to be held in Buena Park tomorrow, as highly important business will be transacted at this meeting. The customary potluck luncheon will be omitted, and the hostess committee will serve sandwiches and coffee instead. This procedure will eliminate preparation at home on the part of those attending, and will greatly simplify the work of the local committee, so that they may be free to attend all sessions of the convention. It is hoped that a record attendance will result from this innovation as delegates may attend any part of the session with no great effort involved.

The presentation of three speakers, Dean Boyce of the Fullerton Junior College, Edwin Price, state chairman of social standards, and Mrs. Ernel McAtee, state chairman of motion pictures, each of whom is well known for his educational attainments, is in itself a guarantee of a day well spent in the furtherance of child welfare.

London Expecting Brilliant Season

LONDON, April 13.—The number of debutantes anxious to be presented at court is increasing so rapidly that the king and queen have decided to grant five occasions instead of the usual four.

The courts are held every year in May and June and from the nucleus around which the London season is built. The official announcement that there will be five courts this year foreshadows the most brilliant season since the war.

It is believed that an unusually large number of Americans will make their bows before her majesty this year.

A large number of other social gatherings are planned outside court for the London season. Many "coming out" parties already have been arranged, most of which are to be held in private houses instead of hotels and restaurants. It is believed that the older custom of entertaining at home is likely to prove popular again.

Considering this situation, he suggested that everyone whose clean-up card has not been picked, can aid the scouts by leaving it where they can grab it on the run. Tomorrow is the last day for collection, he announced. The cards will be judged on Monday.

What Dr. Caldwell Learned in 47 Years Practice

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time regardless of how much one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the delicate system and is not a habit forming preparation. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written us to that effect.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason for their use when a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more cleanly and gently, without griping and harm to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It robs your strength, hardens your arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to a druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Take the proper dose that night and by morning you will feel like a different person. Use Syrup Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and crampy stomach, bad breath, no appetite, headaches, and to break up fevers and colds. Always have a bottle in the house, and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.

J. B. Caldwell M.D.

We would be glad to have you

Hooks and Slides

Although not very much has been said about it this spring, the name of Johnny Mostil probably will be read often this summer in the lineup of the Chicago White Sox.

And if so—just how good will Mostil be?

Just a year ago, before injuries forced him out, Mostil was rated one of the great outfields of the game. He was a dangerous hitter, an excellent base runner and one of the swiftest men in the field.

Then Mostil forced himself out. It was thought he never would be able to play major league baseball again, and if fortunate enough to do so, hardly would be anything near his old self.

Johnny is back. He may not play regularly for the Sox this summer, but he will be in there ever so often and there's no telling just how his game will be.

Confidence in himself is the big thing Johnny needs. He always was a bit lacking in this characteristic, but it is the thing he needs more than ever now. Encouragement he has now and always has had from Manager Ray Schalk and other baseball players.

Russell ("Lena") Blackbourne, Schalk's assistant at Chicago, thinks Johnny will have a big year. He doesn't believe that Mostil will play regularly, but he does think he will be inserted as a pinch hitter and runner in many games this summer, and perhaps will be in the lineup for entire games at a time.

"Mostil made some great catches during spring training, and I have a good hunch that the old boy will be the Mostil of old," he says. "Just wait and see for yourself."

Here's hoping Blackbourne is correct in his deductions. With Mostil back in the form he once exhibited, he would be a welcome addition to that White Sox outfit, at present a very capable one with Bill Falk, Bobby Barrett, Randy Moore and Alex Metzler doing chores for Schalk.

WILSON TO END CAREER

Unless something happens soon, the last Army-Navy contest for no one knows how long will be staged on June 2 when the soccer teams of the two government institutions meet.

Incidentally, that game will be the last time the Navy will have to contend with Harry Wilson in the garb of an opponent.

Since their squeak over the three-year eligibility rule it has been understood that the two schools would have no further athletic relations after July 1. That decision was reached months ago. It is unchanged now and the soccer game is the last of the contests to be held between the two schools.

For seven years, while attending Penn State and West Point, Wilson has been competing against the Middies. He has taken part in victories and has suffered defeats many times, but the soccer game will be his last victory or defeat.

Perhaps sports writers in the future when writing of the last athletic contest between the Navy and the Army will be able to definitely place this coming soccer struggle by remembering it as the game in which Wilson ended his athletic competition against the Navy.

EARLY ENTRY

While the runners are getting hot dogs in Pyle's bunion derby through the southwest, the Indians of the west are getting ready for the second annual Redwood Empire marathon from San Francisco to Grant's Pass, Ore. The first entry was Manuel Cardova (below), who is Chief Humming Bird of the famous California "Lost Tribe" and ruler of one-half of the Wapoo Indians in northern California. When he entered the race his tribe staged a dance ritual to bring him good luck.

Huntington Beach started out like a sure winner against the Frances Willard color-bearers, bating Kneeland out of the box in the first inning and treating his successor, Blower, almost as unkindly. Kneeland and Blower only went three frames, Pitts and Sanchez completing the North Main street squad's "parade of pitchers."

Frances Willard made two runs in the first, three in the third, one in the fifth and hammered out their victory with a seven-run rally in the seventh.

Willard Lineup

The Willard lineup: Chavez, 3b; Blower, ss - p; Sanchez, lf - p; Kneeland, p - ss; Lutz, 2b; Crotty, c; Quon, cf; Heine, rf; Bows, lb; Pitts, p.

Julia Lathrop encountered unexpected opposition at Fullerton and was thankful for their six-run lead which they held at the beginning of the sixth round.

Fullerton finished fast, piling up four in the last two stanzas.

Dallas Reichstein, Julia Lathrop's southpaw, started on the ridge for the South Main streeters, alternating with Robert Pague who look particularly good in the fifth inning that he toiled.

He fanned 12 and only one run was maddened him.

Daneri Hits Homer

James Daneri, who has now put aside his track shoes for the baseball bat, had a good day with the willow, crashing out three safeties in four attempts. One of his blows was a Homer with two on the sacks.

Lathrop's eighth grade nine was scheduled to meet the eighth grade squad of Tustin grammar school at Tustin this afternoon.

Next Tuesday, the Lathrop first string will meet the Huntington

Beach high school varsity on Lathrop field. The lineups:

Reichstein, p - Wherley

Reed, c - Lutz, ss - Pitts

Pague, lf - Lutz, 2b - Poyer

Gordon, rb - ss - Thompson

Bows, lf - Adams, DeGraff

WOMEN FINALISTS BATTLE FOR TITLE

PASADENA, Calif., April 13.—Mrs. Gregg Lifter, Southern California women's golf champion, was to meet Miss Kathleen Wright today in the final match of the California state women's championship at Flintridge Country club.

Mrs. Lifter, by virtue of her elimination of both Mrs. Harry Pressler, women's Western champion, and Mrs. Dan Jones, the defending state titlist, was the favorite to win.

Mrs. Lifter defeated Mrs. Jones yesterday, 2 and 1, and Miss Wright beat Mrs. Roy Greene, 1 up.

PASADENA, Calif., April 13.—Mack House, Pasadena Negro, knocked out Joe Lohman, Toledo heavyweight, in the seventh round of their scheduled 10-round main event last night.

DOPE FAVERS LONG BEACH OR GLENDALE BUT LOCALS HAVE HOPES FOR VICTORY

The young men of Santa Ana high school have quite a task spread before them within the next 24 hours but they and their talented tutor, "Tex" Oliver, think that with a break or two in their favor they may confound all the sharpsters who have picked Long Beach and Glendale to make a runaway race of tomorrow's fifth annual Coast Preparatory league track and field meet which will be held at Long Beach, beginning at 2 p. m.

The dope favors the Jackrabbits and the Dynamiters, nobody can gainsay that, but the fact remains that upsets can occur with amazing regularity in a track meet and Santa Ana has enough potential strength to make the most of any unexpected changes in the tide.

What Happened Last Year

Last year, in the league classic at Glendale, the Santa Ana squad, led by a great sprinter in Captain Harvey Bear and a marvelous miler in Harold Breeding, was doped to make a flight of it for first place. Bear was victimized by an "unusual decision" in one of his races, Breeding fell down on the first turn of his race and then lost a shoe on the third lap and most of the other Saint stars ran into grief somewhere and when it was all over the locals had scored only 15 points, less than half of what they should have accumulated.

There is no reason to believe this will occur tomorrow but it goes to show what could happen. If young Frank Wykoff or his sprinting sidekick, Russ Slocum, should fall down then Glendale will be hard pressed to finish first and the same would be true if Long Beach's great hurdling trio, Bills, Roberts and McLaughlin, should be outdistanced by Johnny Moffat, Alvin Rehboin and Ernie Velarde, the fleet Santa Ana triumvirate.

This fifth all-league competition should be the best in history. There is no doubt as to the class of the contestants or that the score will be close.

Two Records Sure To Go

Two records are almost certain to go glimmering. Bill Miller, the skinny southpaw pole vaulter from San Diego who is the state prep champion, in a cinch to beat "Foxy" Maltby's old mark of 12 feet, 2 3/4 inches and if he has a "hot" day he may shatter the world's interscholastic mark. Miller clears 13 feet consistently.

Wykoff, perhaps the most remarkable prep sprinter of all time, is certain to break the record of 22 seconds flat, held jointly by himself and Bear, of Santa Ana. Wykoff should run the furlong in 21.5 and he may possibly better his own time of 2.7 seconds for the 100, as well.

Breeding's 4:43.8 mile is likely to go by the boards. Snider, the San Diego captain, has run faster than that on several occasions this spring.

Other marks, including those in the 440, the 880, the javelin and the shot put, will be in serious predicament when the big field swings into action.

Santa Ana qualified 16 athletes in Wednesday's preliminaries, two less than Long Beach, one less than Glendale and the same number as San Diego. Pasadena got 14 in the finals, Alhambra three and South Pasadena two.

Beside these successful contestants, the local school will be represented by Tommy Cone and Carl Schoeneberg in the 880 and Tom Donohue in the mile and much depends on how these runners fare. If they place high, Santa Ana will be a dangerous first place competitor.

YOUTH CLINGS TO SLIM DERBY LEAD

EL RENO, Okla., April 13.—A youthful Oklahoman and a lanky Englishman renewed their contest for the lead in C. C. Pyle's transcontinental footrace today as the 85 runners left here for Oklahoma City.

Andrew Payne, Claremont, Okla., held a lead of more than an hour over his nearest rival, Peter Gavuzzo, Southampton, England. Payne increased his lead over Gavuzzo by five minutes yesterday when he led the English runner on the 37-mile lap from Bridgeport.

Niels Nelson, Chicago, won yesterday's race in 5:20:26 and advanced to thirty-third place in time standings. Olli Wantinen, New York, and Claude Brown, Glendale, Cal., finished second and third, respectively.

Broad jump—Wykoff, McFadden and Beatty, Glendale; Velarde and Lannigan, Matthews and Wilson, Glendale; Mitchell, Long Beach; Ostberg, Pinella and Cramer, Pasadena; Snider, Dupree and Noel, San Diego; Donohue, Garlic, Erbe and Arnold, Santa Ana; McLean, Lavignino and Froom, South Pasadena.

220 yard low hurdles—Moffat, Rehboin and Lohman, Santa Ana; Bills and Roberts, Long Beach; Morgan and Sloan, Glendale; Hite, San Diego; Ford, Pasadena.

Relay (four-men half mile)—Alhambra, Glendale, Long Beach, Pasadena, San Diego; Deason, Dorrland and Miller, San Diego; Castell, Glendale.

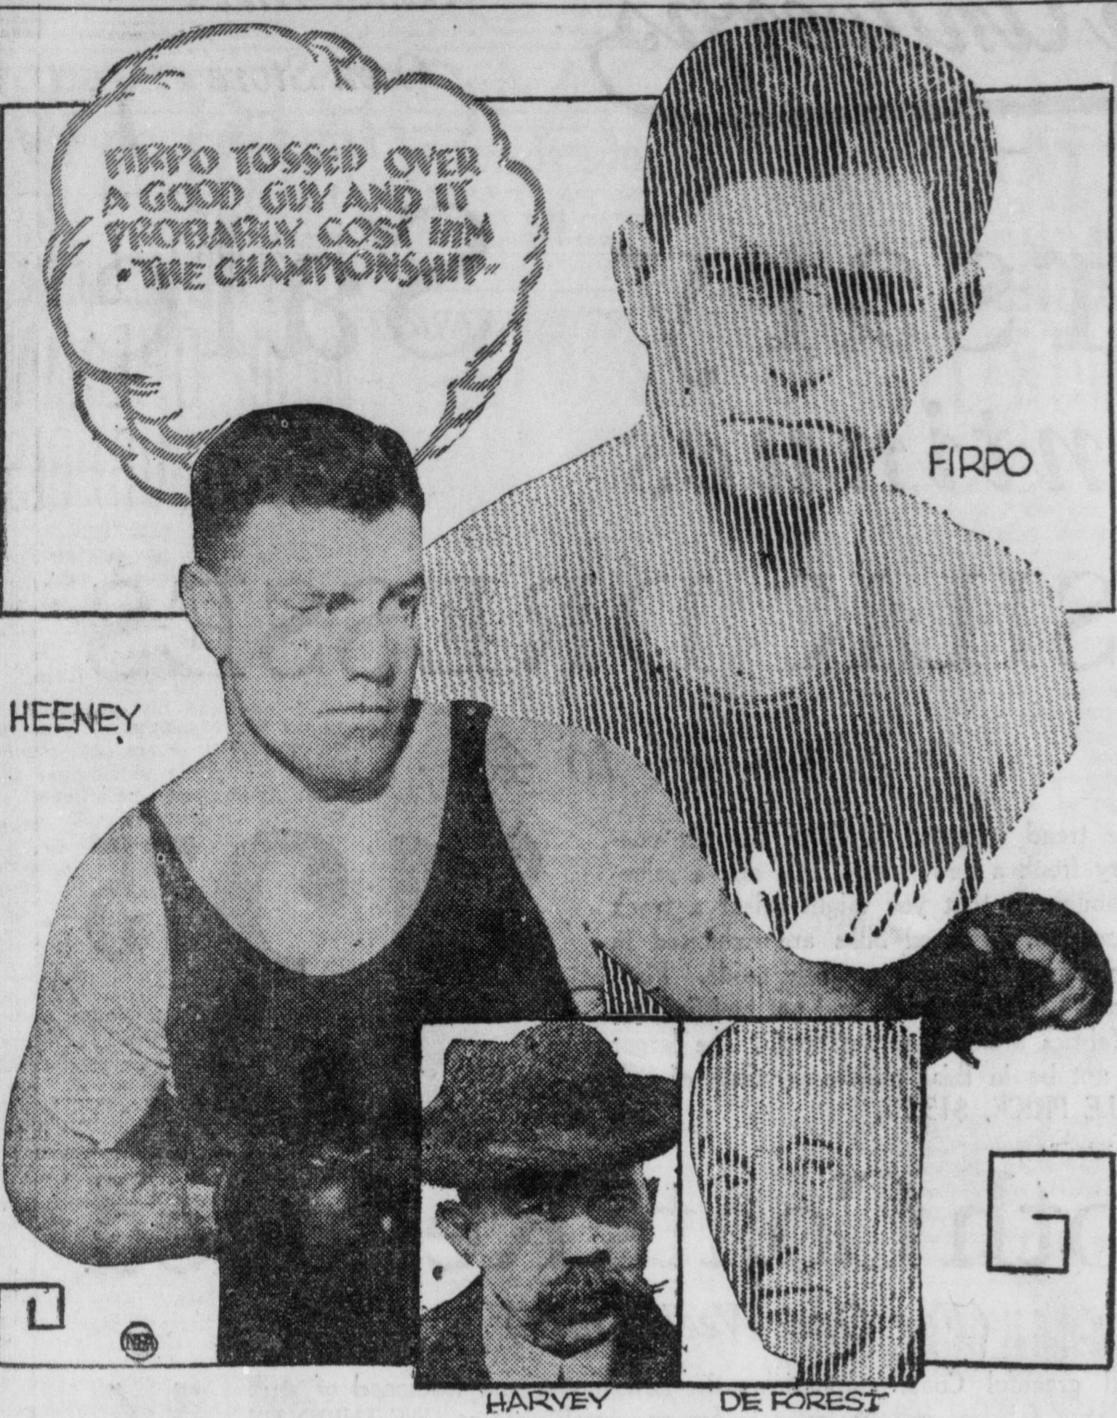

High jump—Moffat and Jacques, Santa Ana; Crow, Darby and Deacon, San Diego; Whitemeyer, Long Beach; Moodie, Glendale; Bres, Alhambra.

Pole vault—Rehboin, Santa Ana; Prior and Long, Pasadena; Epperson, Long Beach; Deason, Dorrland and Miller, San Diego; Castell, Glendale.

Broad jump—Wykoff, McFadden and Beatty, Glendale; Velarde and Lannigan, Matthews and Wilson, Glendale; Mitchell, Long Beach; Ostberg, Pinella and Cramer, Pasadena; Snider, Dupree and Noel

FISTIC HISTORY OF HEENEY AND HARVEY

This is the second of six articles by Henry L. Farrell, NEA Service sports writer, telling the interesting story of Tom Heeney, who fights Gene Tunney for the heavyweight championship in July, and his manager, Charley Harvey, who finally received a "break."

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(NEA Service Sports Writer)

"From a Dime to a Million," as it might be written by Luis Angel Firpo and Thomas Heeney, is a tale that has many high spots in common.

It isn't a matter of official record that either had as much as a dime when they arrived in this country. There is a record in the U. S. Internal Revenue bureau, however, that shows Firpo was a millionaire when he left the United States. Perhaps Heeney will have as much when he returns to the blacksmith shop in New Zealand.

Fortune, in the contribution of opportunities to Firpo, certainly was kind to him and Heeney may be blessed with even more of a golden smile from the fates. By the minute fraction of an inch Firpo failed to win the heavyweight championship of the world when he slugged Jack Dempsey clear out of the ring in New York. Heeney is coming into his big chance to win the millions that go with the heavyweight championship and the decision of the fates will have to be his battle with Gene Tunney.

Fate Helped Dempsey

Fate played in Dempsey's favor when he fell out of the ring on to the press table in New York in such a position that he could pull himself back into the ring in time to massacre Firpo. But fate played against Dempsey in Chicago last September when Tunney was permitted to doze for 14 seconds after having been smashed to the floor.

Perhaps, in the workings of those fates, a break against Tunney is now due and Heeney may get the benefit.

Firpo crawled out of the hold of a South American liner on the Jersey side of the New York port. He hadn't had his clothes off in days and the only article of apparel he had to distinguish him from a vagabond was a rubber collar that he washed in a water trough on the dock.

He had no great reputation as a fighter. His size and physical strength, his resemblance to a wild bull, and his known ability to absorb punishment were his only assets. But he couldn't tell anyone about it. He couldn't speak English.

Rather panic-stricken in a big city, Firpo took refuge in a cellar under a second-hand store in Newark, sharing quarters with a big negro who was willing to accept his unsocial society for coffee money.

Firpo first attracted attention when someone carried the news to Jimmy De Forest that there was a great-looking heavyweight prospect in a cellar in Newark, a guy who wanted to fight. De Forest, an old-timer, the best trainer in the country and a skilled handler of fighters, had been for years in the quest of that unknown heavyweight that every old-timer is seeking.

De Forest was in a run of bad luck. He thought he was set for life when he hooked up with Jack Dempsey in 1919. He trained Dempsey for his fight with Jess Willard in Toledo and no more superbly trained and physically conditioned athlete ever stepped into a ring than the Dempsey wonder who smashed the facial bones of the huge Willard and won the world's championship.

Luck Didn't Stay

Fate didn't stay with De Forest however. Jack Kearns thought that Dempsey and De Forest were too friendly. He charged De Forest with attempting to steal Dempsey away from him and fired him boldly out of the camp. He not only forbade him the liberty of Dempsey's company but did everything he could to discredit the part De Forest had taken in making Dempsey.

De Forest, accepting the tip on Firpo, dug the huge South American out of the cellar, staked him, fed him and put him up in his home. He was making a fighter out of Firpo when some Brazilian waiters from a coffee house in New York told Firpo that De Forest would double-cross him.

They told him that De Forest was heart and soul a Dempsey man, that he would school him wrong, and betray him and Firpo.

SPECIAL EVENTS FOR BOYS ARE PLANNED AT 'Y'

The present month is proving more than usually a busy one in the program of activities for the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A.

Secretary T. P. McKee's schedule of special events for the boys for the month shows the following, in addition to the regular program of class and club work.

A meeting of the camp committee is set for Friday evening, at 7:15 o'clock. The committee includes Eugene Griset, Garfield Allen, Ralph Raitt, Lester Slaback and Carson Smith, and they will enter upon detailed plans for the boys' summer camp at Osceola, which comes this year the week after school ends.

A "Raggers' Reunion," with a dinner and big program, is set for the evening of the seventeenth, at the Y building, when boys who have won their honors as Raggers in the past at camp will celebrate.

On the 23rd, there is to be a joint dinner meeting of the Hi-Y clubs and the Girl Reserve clubs, with a special program of entertainment and discussions.

Three social events are set for the month for the members of the boys' department. On Friday evening, the 20th, the younger boys will have their monthly party and entertainment, and on Saturday, the 21st, the intermediate boys will be similarly entertained.

For the "blue card" division, as the high school boys are known, a combination volleyball and swimming meet is planned for the evening of the 26th.

Secretary McKee is to attend a conference of camp directors in Los Angeles on Saturday, to gain new ideas about handling the boys' camps this summer. Some members of his committee will probably be with him.

Other activities included in the schedule for the month, but not yet dated, are a meeting of the church co-operating committee on boys' work, the start of the spring baseball leagues for the boys' clubs, and the programs to be presented by the Hi-Y deputation teams.

BOLSA

BOLSA, April 13.—Mrs. Aron Wilcox entertained with an Easter party at the Wilcox home for her daughter, Gladys Wilcox. The guest list included Blanch Baker, Ruth Rice, Jenette McGraine, Opal Anderson, Betty Anderson, Lottie Anderson, Madge Russell, Ella Russell and Emma Russell, Billie Anderson and James McGraine, while Mrs. Wilcox was assisted in her hostess duties by Mrs. Rose Snodgrass, of Los Angeles, and Miss Ethel Rice, of this place.

Mrs. Stella Farnsworth was honor guest at a surprise party given in observance of her birthday anniversary by a party of relatives and friends, who brought with them the Silver Acres orchestra to furnish music for the evening. The invited guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Farnsworth, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Howard and daughter, Thelma Jean; and Mrs. Arthur Lewis, of Orange; Mrs. Bertha Gross and George Fulmer, of Los Angeles; Mrs. Sara Howard and three daughters, Leona, Rosemary and Dorothy Lee, of Escondido; Jack Sargent, Sake Rathke, Wayne Richardson, Frank Walker, Dick Murphy, Lester Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Murphy and the orchestra members, Bob Richardson, Clyde Richardson and John Driscoll.

Announcement is made that on next Saturday evening the Rev. Mr. Ishikawa, of Norwalk, will hold services at the Bolsa Japanese Independent church. Mr. Ishikawa is to preach at 7:30 o'clock.

Extensive improvements are being made in the Bolsa school grounds by Grant Eddy, who is in charge of the local school grounds. Shrubbery is being changed and considerable ground is being added to the lawns already in.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bauer and two sons spent Easter Sunday at Watts where they attended Easter services and were dinner guests in the home of Mrs. Bauer's mother.

There will be a dance next Saturday evening at the Bolsa club-house.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Shutt gathered Easter Sunday morning in the Shutt home for the usual Easter breakfast. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Shutt, their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gardner, and daughters, Bessie, Margaret, Myrtle and Dorothy, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, of Newport Beach.

In the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner entertained the same party with the addition of Mrs. Sara Gardner and Elmer Radford at a dinner party in their home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Willingham motorized Sunday to Saugus to have the day with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Price entertained dinner on Easter Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. George Hardman and four children and their small granddaughter, Betty Jean Willingham.

Velda Walker and Audrey Combs spent Sunday afternoon at the home of their uncle, Ralph Ross, and in the evening Audrey, who has been spending a week with relatives here, left for her home in La Habra, motorizing up with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richardson.

Mrs. Elter Gardner, of Bakersfield, was a Monday guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richardson were hosts at a party of relatives and friends at Easter Sunday dinner.

J. A. Bower received word of the death Monday night of his mother at the family home near Santa Ross and Tuesday morning he and his wife left to motor north. They expect to be away a week.

Miss Velda Barnes, who has been spending the week of spring vacation at home from the Anaheim high school, where she teaches, enjoyed a trip to Catalina Island one day in company with her mother, Mrs. Helen Barnes.

On Sunday, Mrs. Barnes was hostess at a family dinner at which were gathered Mr. and Mrs. Percy Prior and three sons, of Garden Grove; Vena and Howard Barnes and Miss Velda Barnes and the hosts.

Bert Howard of Escondido, came Saturday evening to the J. C. Farnsworth home, accompanied by a friend, Mr. Stuck, to remain over the week end.

George Fysden is driving a new sedan, purchased this week.

Jack Sargent and Miss Josephine Mon motorized to Claremont, bringing to the Sargent home for the week end Jack Sargent's brother and family.

Jess Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Ward, Frank Walker and Mr. and Mrs. John Farnsworth attended a dance at Garden Grove Monday evening.

MISSING GIRL IS FOUND IN ARIZONA

LOS ANGELES, April 13.—Marie Willard, 18, who disappeared here last Thursday while on a shopping tour with her mother, has been located in Naco, Ariz., officials of that city stated.

According to the report of Sheriff Lee Hall, the girl was discovered living with an unidentified man. Local authorities asked that the pair be held and indicated Mann act charges would be preferred against the man.

Name Methodist Bishops In May

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 13.—The task of assigning bishops will be one of the principal activities of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church here in May.

Five bishops retire and their position must be filled by selection of the assembly. The five retiring men are subject to a section of the church's "discipline" that provides for retirement of the general superintendent at the close of the general conference nearest his 73rd birthday.

The group which will face retirement and the years they have served as bishop follow:

Joseph F. Berry, Philadelphia, Pa., 24 years; Luther B. Wilson, New York City, 24 years; William P. Thirkield, Chattanooga, Tenn., 16 years; William F. Oldham, Buenos Aires, Argentine, 12 years, and Francis W. Warne, Bangalore City, India, eight years.

Gas in the Stomach

Is Truly Dangerous

Gas, pain, bloating and a feeling of fullness after eating are almost certainly due to excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach.

Too much acid irritates the delicate stomach lining, frequently causing chronic Gastritis and dangerous ulcers. Food and drink containing fiber, which distends the stomach and often seriously affects the heart.

It is genuine folly to neglect such a condition or to treat with artificial digestive aids that cannot neutralize the acid. The better way is to get from your druggist some Bismuthed Magnesia (powder or tablets) and take a little after each meal. This famous but simple and inexpensive stomach soother and antacid can be depended upon to prove its value in less than five minutes.

In most instances, relief comes instantly! Pleasant and perfect harmless to use—Bismuthed Magnesia does give wonderful relief in the out of the cases. Ask your doctor or druggist—Adv.

BOYS' WEEK IS SCHEDULED FOR LAST OF APRIL

National Boys' week, April 29 to May 5, is to be observed in Santa Ana, according to announcement from the local Y. M. C. A. today. A special committee, representing the boys' work committee, and including as its members R. H. Silverthorn, L. R. McMullen and W. G. Stauffer, is at work on plans for special events during that week which will serve to direct attention vigorously to the boys and their problems.

Boys' week is a product of the Rotary clubs of America, being started some years ago as a means of furthering the interests of work for boys among the service clubs.

It has come to be generally utilized by boys' work agencies as a means for this purpose, and the local program is being promoted so as to produce definite results.

Special services are to be held in various churches on Sunday evening, April 29, emphasizing the boys' work, and inaugurating the week in proper form.

At the service club meetings during the week, plans have already been formulated for a number of speeches and programs in keeping with the week. Both the Junior high schools will feature boys' week in their activities, and other schools will pay attention to the idea.

The Y. M. C. A. boys' department is co-operating in all of these programs, furnishing boys to participate in the various meetings scheduled and aiding to secure special speakers.

Boys' Secretary T. P. McKee has assembled an aggregation of talented, musical, oratorical and athletic, which will be available for numbers on programs of all sorts, and he is meeting with a good demand for their services.

The effort during the entire week will be to help the boys to meet with men and women in normal activities, and to bring the youngsters into better understanding with their mature friends, so that both may be benefited.

WATCH YOUR FRENCH!
PARIS, April 13.—When the Montmartre Apaches get into difficulties with the police their battle cry is "Mort Aux Vaches." A young Englishman, whose French had been neglected, was coached by a friend before crossing the channel. Upon his arrival in Paris he approached an officer and said "Pardon Monsieur l'Agent, mort aux vaches. Voulez-vous m'indiquer l'Hotel Continental?" The gendarme told him to beat it. The Englishman, fearing he had been misunderstood, raised his voice and repeated the request. Whereupon he was taken to police headquarters. The apache phrase means "kill the cows."

C. C. DELEGATES
PLAN NEWPORT
BEACH SESSION

NEWPORT BEACH, April 13.—Representatives of junior chamber of commerce from all parts of California will meet here Saturday for the regular quarterly meeting of the California State Junior Chamber of Commerce. Preparations are being made for more than 50 delegates. Members of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce will be hosts to the delegates on a boat trip around Newport harbor in the afternoon. A banquet is to be served at the Southern Seas club at 6 o'clock. The Sleepytown orchestra, a group of Orange county women musicians will play. The orchestra is led by Mrs. Mae Whitacre. Miss Nelle Mai Chapman and Miss Lois Gould, of Santa Ana, will sing.

Following the banquet, wives of the delegates will be guests at a theater party while the business meeting is held. Following the meeting, the delegates and their wives will be guests at the rendezvous ballroom on the ocean front in Balboa.

E. Marie Hussong, of Santa Ana, state president of the junior chamber, will be in charge of the meeting. The meeting was called at Newport Beach for the purpose of showing the advantages of the harbor district to the delegates and to promote an interest in water sports.

LUTHERAN MEETING IN ORANGE CLOSES

ORANGE, April 13.—The Lutheran pastors and teachers conference, held here for the past few days, closed yesterday afternoon.

In a talk given the second day of the conference, the doctrinal position of the Lutheran church was read. The Rev. A. Hauser, of Pasadena, pictured the Lutheran church as the "singing church." In his talk on church music, he stressed the use of the confessional hymn as of genuine poetic and musical worth.

In the afternoon the missionary situation in Southern California was discussed. There are 38 active pastors in this part of the state and 53 congregations. Work among the deaf mutes of the coast, the Sherman Indians and the negroes was told. This work is done at an expenditure of more than $45,000 annually.

The members of the Martha society were hostesses to the visitors at luncheon and dinner Tuesday, and yesterday members of the Ladies' Aid society of the church were hostesses.

ON FISHING TRIPS

NEWPORT BEACH, April 13.—Boy Scouts of Santa Ana will enjoy a free fishing trip to the Newport fishing barge tomorrow, it was announced today by J. K. Smith, owner and operator of the barge. Smith will be host to 35 Scouts on the barge. A number of groups given fishing trips during the summer months, according to Smith.

The barge was anchored off coast of Newport Beach a few days ago and, according to reports, fishing is good. Mackerel forms the principal catch, although many sharks have been caught recently.

Officers Named
By Westminster
Parent Teachers

WESTMINSTER, April 13.—Election of officers for the year was held Wednesday afternoon by the Westminster Parent-Teacher association, the meeting being held at the school.

Mrs. Prindle takes the place of Miss Floyd Morris, who for the past two and a half years has been president of the P. T. A. Mrs. A. B. Crane was re-elected vice president; Mrs. Smidt, secretary; Mrs. Dauphane, treasurer; Mrs. C. B. McCall, historian, and Mrs. Fred Basse, auditor.

The greater part of the afternoon was taken up with the election and planning for a luncheon and food sale for April 21. The luncheon will be given at noon but it was not fully decided where it is to be held.

Beach Youngsters
Take Plane Ride

NEWPORT BEACH, April 13.—Miss Juanita Lugo, 4, and John Lugo Jr., 6, are among the youngest airplane passengers in Newport Beach. The two youngsters were passengers of Eddie Martin this week on their first aerial trip.

BOARD TAKES OFFICE MONDAY
IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, April 13.—Bert Annin, city councilman, is slated to be the new mayor of Fullerton, as a result of the decision of the new members of the board at an informal meeting held yesterday at the city hall. Annin will be the chairman of the city council.

Although the new councilmen have not been sworn in the informal meeting was held yesterday in order that the new mayor might plan to attend several conventions that are to be held soon, one of which is the city planning commission conference to be held at Pasadena.

Annin is the only member of the old council. He was elected to the city council at the city election two years ago.

Council committees will be appointed by Annin at the regular meeting next Tuesday night. The new members will be sworn into office next Monday night following a banquet at McFarland's cafe, given in their honor by members of the old council.

Following yesterday's meeting, the councilmen attending a "liquor party" at the city jail conducted by Chief of Police James Pearson. More than 15 gallons of liquor that had been gathered during the past month was destroyed.

BEACH COUNCILMEN NOT SUPERSTITIOUS

NEWPORT BEACH, April 13.—Will bad luck follow the new city councilmen of Newport Beach because they are meeting for the first time on Friday the 13th?

The special session is being held at the city hall tonight regardless of superstitious beliefs. The members of the present council will tell new city councilmen of the actions which have been taken on tideland suits filed by the city to quiet title to ocean front and bay front tidelands. The new council will not take office until next Monday evening.

Hints were heard here today to the effect that several resignations might be presented at the special session tonight.

Backers Of Brea
Chamber Arrange Dinner Meeting

BREA, April 13.—Promoters of a chamber of commerce held the second of their meeting in Craig hall Wednesday evening, at which time the matter of final organization was deferred until the evening of April 18.

At that time a 6:30 o'clock dinner will be served in the Scout cabin. It is hoped that at least 200 representative citizens will be on hand at this time to take an active part in the organization of the chamber and the selection of officers.

Present plans call for the services of a part-time secretary.

Card Party Held
As School Benefit

PLACENTIA, April 13.—Mrs. J. Hammon, gave a benefit party Tuesday afternoon for the school children of St. Mary's church, Fullerton, at her home on Rose Drive. She was assisted by Mesdames Herbert Anderson, O. Dykman, J. Kesev and J. T. Hurley, of Yorba Linda; Edward Depwig, Fred Cline, of Placentia, and J. J. Berkhard, C. Nevin and Perry G. Smith, of Anaheim.

Forty-two guests were present. Games of bridge and "500" were enjoyed. The two first prizes offered for the game were won by Mrs. Henry Dykman and Miss Jane Wench, of Los Angeles, and the two second prizes offered by Mrs. John Harlow and Mrs. J. Jacoby, both of Anaheim. The door prize went to Mrs. John R. Wallace, of Placentia. Two cakes were won by Mrs. E. K. Kirby, of Placentia, and Mrs. G. Tremmer of Anaheim.

Cypress Firemen Will Hold Social

CYPRESS, April 13.—Firemen of Cypress will be hosts at a box social to be held in the Cypress grammar school tonight at 7:30 o'clock. A program of entertainment has been arranged and everyone in the community is invited to attend.

OIL SHOWINGS REPORTED IN WILDCAT WELL AT CYPRESS; HOLE IS DOWN 4200 FEET

CYPRESS, April 13.—With the hole below the 4200 foot level, excellent oil showings have been encountered in the well being drilled by the Ohio Oil company on the Miller lease at Cypress. It was reported here.

A thorough test of the district is planned by the Ohio company, which has a large tract of land under lease. The equipment being used by the company is of the latest design, permitting extremely deep drilling.

Cypress residents are convinced that an oil pool underlies the district. Practically all of the land in the section is under lease to oil firms, the Marland company and George Getty being among the operators having large tracts.

Many tracts of land have been sold as a result of the drilling activity and Cypress residents expect a big boom in the event that the Miller well becomes a commercial producer.

LAGUNA LIBRARY
PLANS RECEPTION

LAGUNA BEACH, April 13.—Preliminary plans for entertainment to be conducted by the Laguna Beach Library Building association were laid this week when A. R. Burns was appointed head of a committee consisting of Mrs. A. B. Marshall, E. M. DeAhna, Mrs. Ralph Bell, P. G. Pemberton, Hugo Peabody and Mrs. Kate Randall.

The new building for the library is rapidly nearing completion and is expected to be ready for a public opening within two weeks. A reception is planned at that time, the committee in charge to consist of Mrs. Ralph Bell, Mrs. A. R. Burns and Mrs. Pearl Wooster.

A report was read showing that the number of books taken out in March was 1728, a gain of 318 over the February number. Each month recently has shown an increase in the popularity of the library.

The treasurer's report showed $624.98 on April 4, with $588.80 of this in the building fund.

ARRANGE PROGRAM FOR PRINCIPALS

County Firemen
Will Meet At H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 13.—The Orange County Firemen's association will meet in Huntington Beach April 24 at the city auditorium. The Huntington Beach firemen will be hosts and an extensive program has been prepared.

The president of the state association will be present, as will the corresponding secretary, J. Alcovitch, of Redlands, and the financial secretary, R. Strasser, of San Diego. I. V. Johnson, president of the San Diego Fire Fighters' association, also is on the program.

Hoover Club Is Planned In Brea

BREA, April 13.—A "Hoover-For-President" club is to be organized in Brea, following a visit recently of Ripley Jackson, of Glendale, who conferred with Hoover backers.

The club will be installed in a stand-by plant and will be used for power when the electrically driven pumps of the city are not running.

Major Carl Leonard was granted a three months' leave of absence. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard will leave immediately for Europe, where they will visit their daughter, who is studying in Paris.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Presbyterian Missionary
The Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church held an interesting meeting Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. H. A. Allen presiding.The meeting opened with an impressively devotional service by Mrs.
Elizabeth Clark. The subjects for consideration for the month of April are Africa and the Negro in America. Mrs. Clark read several short poems by Negro authors showing depth of thought and beauty of expression. For the Scripture lesson she chose the second chapter of James. The Rev. D. L.
McGriff, pastor of the Second Baptist church, and his wife favored the audience with two well rendered voiced numbers. Mr. McGriff spoke of the effort the colored people are making to build a church in Santa Ana and hoped the white people would aid them.Mrs. E. M. Smiley had charge of the program which was mostly devoted to reports from the annual meeting recently held in Anaheim.Mrs. Mary Galloway, Mrs. E. L.
Morrison, Mrs. J. H. Nicholson, Mrs. J. E. Kellogg, Miss Ida Mitchell, Mrs. A. M. McDermott and Mrs.
T. S. Blair each reported some special session of the meeting. All reports showed encouraging progress in the various departments of the work.The annual meeting celebrated the forty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Los Angeles Presbyterian society and many of the addresses and tableaux were descriptive of the early phases and the progress of the missionary work of this Presbytery.A particularly interesting part of the local program was given by the Misses Margaret Gaebel, Dorothy
Jessie and Betty Clary as they reported the young people's banquet and meeting of Friday evening.

Two-In-One-Party

Everything was in reverse in the parlors of the Spurgeon Memorial church, when men of the Two-In-One class entertained their wives at a backward party, at the meeting this week.The men prepared the dinner, which was served at a table arranged directly opposite the usual manner. Feathery spinach served as a floral centerpiece, and the menu, prepared by truly talented chefs, started in with toothsome pie, and worked backward through the courses until the soup was served at the dinner's close. While the guest-wives were able to compliment the entire dinner, they were especially appreciative of the hot biscuits, which had been compounded by that master biscuit-maker, Walter Fine.When the last bit of soup had been sipped, the men relinquished the position of hosts, and the wives of the class took charge of program features.They had planned a musical evening, to which Miss Katherine Kirven contributed a group of beautifully played violin solos with Miss Corinne Pennington as her accompanist. Miss Virginia Motley and her brother, Earl Motley, added a number of piano duets, played with excellent technique and expression. The remainder of the evening was given over to games and contests.

Half a hundred Two-In-One members were present to enjoy the evening. Judge Kenneth E. Morrison was chairman of the men's committee and the other members were Messrs L. E. Martin, J. E.

Bradford, A. W. Henk, Walter Fine and Ed Tumber.Mrs. J. V. Connell and Mrs. Edward Schwarm formed the committee in charge of the program.

Hawaiian Theme Gives Striking Effect to Bridge LuncheonCharming in all its details of decoration and hospitality, was the luncheon and bridge presented yesterday at Santa Ana Country club, with Mrs. William E. Otis, Mrs. Charles A. Vance and Mrs.
William E. Otis Jr., as hostesses.Contributing to the beauty of the scene, were the smart growths of the guests, reflecting the colorful styles of the early spring. The three hostesses, receiving in the small card room adjoining the assembly room of the clubhouse, formed a most attractive study in varying shades of rose. Mrs. Vance wore a filmy chiffon in the most delicate of flesh tints, with real lace trimming and a flaring bow of shell pink. Mrs. Otis sounded a deeper color note in her gown of soft crepe with lace medallions, while the junior Mrs. Otis wore a smartly plaided model in a more pronounced rose tone.To add further color, the Misses Louise and Charlotte Vance, the one in crisp taffeta and the other in soft silk crepe, offered trays of chocolates to the guests, who each chose a soft chou to harmonize with her frock.Tables in the dining room expressed an Hawaiian theme with their decorations of quaint little grass-thatched cottages, alternating with clumps of diminutive palms shading grass-skirted natives, or clusters of hibiscus blossoms.While the menu of curled rice croquettes, creamed chicken à la Hawaii, and other dainties were being served, the Stamp String quartet played the sweetly melancholy strains of island music.Card tables were in readiness for the after-luncheon series of bridge games, and on each were the four tally cards, each in Hawaiian design. Over a score of tables were in play.Mrs. John E. Otis, president of the local program was given by the Misses Margaret Gaebel, Dorothy
Jessie and Betty Clary as they reported the young people's banquet and meeting of Friday evening.Three Birthdays Celebrated at PartyMrs. James P. Ryan's birthday was celebrated in happy fashion
Wednesday evening, when a group of friends assembled at her home, 320 West Second street, for a party.Messrs. Fred S. Wilson and Charles Hawks, having the same birthday, were included in the courtesy.Flowers brightened the home, many of them accompanying the pretty gifts presented the hostess.An evening of chat and music followed, and as midnight drew near, Mrs. Ryan served a delicious supper, including a big birthday cake.In the party were Mr. and Mrs.
Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ellison, Miss Fayette Wilson, L. Harris and Charlie Hawks of this city; Mr. and Mrs. Emil Witt, and Miss Olga Witt, Anaheim; Mr. and Mrs.
A. Miller and Miss Virginia Miller,
Los Angeles.

W. C. T. U.

The Santa Ana W. C. T. U. held the most interesting meeting of the year on Tuesday in the First
M. E. church, with Mrs. Amy Evans presiding.Miss Davidson of the Mexican Friendly Center, had charge of the devotions. At the close a solo was sung very sweetly by one of the young ladies of the Mexican church.The subject for the afternoon was on two departments of the W.
C. T. U., the Americanization and Flower Mission. Mrs. Bessie Harter, director of Americanization, had prepared a very interesting and educational program.Teachers of the two Mexican schools in the city, Grand Avenue and Artesia, were present and brought with them quite a number of the Mexican children, who sang many of their school songs, among them "California" and "The Flag of All Flags." A flag drill was conducted by Mrs. Ritter. The singing and general good behavior showed the careful training the children had received from their teachers.A shadow song was given by three little girls, a cricket song by two little girls.The Five Milk Bottles and the Paint Brush song were very cleverly given by several children.Mrs. Harter gave a talk on the work and some carefully compiled statistics regarding the foreign population. There is a total enrollment of 1140 in the Mexican schools. Mrs. Roy Roepke sang a song written by Mrs. Florence Potter and sung to the tune of "Onward Christian Soldiers." The other topic for the afternoon was the Flower Mission and was in charge of the directors, Mrs. Lenora Kyle and Mrs. Susie Oglesby.A very striking pageant, "The Mission," representing the beauty and loving thoughtfulness that in-spires those who are sick with hope and courage because they are remembered, was impressed upon the minds of those present as the spring flowers were taken to others who are shut in and away from much of the beauty of the spring time.Those taking part in the pag-ean were Mesdames Wager, Van Nest, Num, French, Gardner, Bradberry, Nicholson, McDonald and Miss Helen Evans. There was a great profusion of beautiful flowers, brought to the meeting and these were distributed to the sick, the shutins and hospitals.Mrs. Edie Nicholson, director of the scientific temperance work, gave an interesting report of what has been accomplished in the city schools and the number of essays written which were 2561 in the city schools and over 2500 in the rural schools. The essays are now all completed and prizes will be given out this week. A Mexican boy from the Grand avenue school received the first prize in the contest. Announcement was made that two state officers, Eva T. Wheeler, state president; Mrs.
Hattie C. Young, recording secretary; Miss Alma Squires, Y. P. B. secretary, and Miss Mary Johnson, L. T. L. secretary, would be on the team to do field work in Orange county from May 5 to May 15 and will open their work in Orange on May 5. The next meeting will be held on May 8 on "Health" and "Child Welfare" and will be in charge of Miss Emily Cox and Mrs. Jean Adamson.

The WOMAN'S DAY by ALLENE SUMNER

A woman just learning to drive a car ran into a group of school children, crushing three of them to death as her car pinned them against the porch of their very own home. This tale picked from the morning's news is not very startling. The same thing happens in most every city day after day. It is not a matter of new "woman drivers" but of the new driver's male or female.

Something must be done. No one can ever learn to drive a car without some experience. You can hardly argue that certain tests of poise and intelligence before one is allowed to drive at all are what we need, for the slightest "new drivers" turn in a short time into the best ones. But how about a law restricting "new drivers" to a certain area from which they cannot graduate till they pass examinations?

The little dead children say that something must be done!

MARY'S MOTHER

The attention given Mrs. Charlotte Pickford, mother of Mary and Jack and Lottie, now that she is dead, tells the old story of great mothers behind great children. It was Mrs. John Smith (real name of Mrs. Pickford) who thought of the screen possibilities for her children and who encouraged them through years of poverty and hardship.

The mother of Isadora Duncan as seen in the dancer's "Life" is another type of mother who forced her children into greatness, but in a different way. One suspects that she wanted support from them, but wasn't insistent how they did it. Isadora at the age of 10 is out with her wife getting bread for her mother. But she did it! May be the old homely proverb of "more than one way to skin a cat" holds true here.

A MODERN ENOCH

The lonely wife of the famous "Enoch Arden" poem had no divorce when she remarried, after mourning her Enoch as dead for long years. Instead of complicating such affairs, one wonders if a good word can't be said for divorce in such connections.

For instance, a shell-shocked World War veteran finds that he has two families, having remarried after wandering away from his old home some seven years ago. His wife, believing him dead, but wanting to make sure, divorced him and is herself remarried and has a second family. Both parties seem satisfied with the present arrangement. But even the expediency of modern divorce laws might not help if both husband and wife wanted to re-establish marriage number one!

THE TINY MITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

(Read The Story, Then Color The Picture)

"Oh, my," cried Scatty, look up there. Poor Clowny's speeding through the air. That great big bird is stealing him. I fear he'll never come back. To Clowny it may be a thrill to be picked up in some bird's bill, but I'd be mighty scared. Just look, he sure is real black."

Then Coppy said, "What can we do to help poor Clowny? Wish I knew. That bird will soon be out of sight and we'll be left behind. Let's look and find the butcher bird, 'cause he will help us if he can. At least if we are trying to help 'twill somewhat ease my mind."

So off they started, down a hill, all closely watching Clowny till the monstrous bird that carried him flew near a mountain top. "Oh, gee," yelled Carpy Tonymite, "the bird has now flown out of sight. My, wouldn't it drop if he'd let Clowny drop."

But Clowny didn't drop. Oh no! The big bird didn't let him go. He held him tightly in his claws and flew on through the air. "Where are we going?" Clowny cried. "Why did you take me on this ride? You left the others all behind. I wish I was back there."

And then the big bird circled round and dropped down nearer to the ground. A mountain loomed up not far off. The bird sailed out that way. "Please land me on the mountain side. I'm getting tired," wept Clowny.

"Twas fun to ride with you, but I have had enough today."

The queer bird seemed to understand. He swooped right down where he could land. Then Clowny got a big surprise, and loudly cried, "Hurrah! The bird has done his very best to be a real kind." "Twas in a nest of little birds he landed. Then the big bird flew away.

Up up not far off. The bird sailed out that way. "Please land me on the mountain side. I'm getting tired," wept Clowny.

AT THE THEATER

WEST END THEATER

Tomorrow night will be the last opportunity for local theater lovers to see "The Heaven," at the West End theater.

Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, the two stars who rose to fame with their work in this production, give two of the most remarkable characterizations ever performed before the camera in their roles of Chico and Diana.

WEST COAST-WALKER

Any one who has the impression that polo is a nice, ladylike game invented by rich men's sons to while away a lazy afternoon, is urged to see "The Smart Set," which opens today at the West Coast-Walker, to undelude himself of his new drivers' but of the new driver's male or female.

As played by William Haines, the game is a sort of cross between a free-for-all horse and man fight and a cross-country fox hunt.

Haines as Tommy Van Asten, scion of wealth, jazz boy of the smart set, does the best work of his career. Alice Day is shown in an entirely new role as the beautiful Polly Durant who wise-cracks a bit on her own and shows a very pretty aptitude in putting the hero through his paces.

The story, as all fine comedy should, contains its bit of pathos. In fact, it has everything—thrilling sport, gorgeous love scenes and rib-tickling comedy—coming so fast that one would need an adding machine to "clock the laughs."

Jack Conway does even a better job of directing than he did with "Brown of Harvard," and that is saying a lot. The cast are all trouper: Jack Holt, Hobart Bosworth, Constance Howard, Coy Watson Jr., are perfect in their parts.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER

The Alaskan gold rush—declared by many to be the most dramatic and picturesque period in America in the last 50 years—provides the engrossing setting for "Burning Daylight," the picture starring Milton Sills, which closes at the Broadway tonight.

Based on Jack London's novel of the same name, "Burning Daylight," is crammed with drama and action, with the endless, epic picture of the gold rush in the background. An unusually large cast, headed by Doris Kenyon in the feminine lead supports Sills.

The Broadway is so proud of the motion picture, "We Americans," which opens today at the playhouse on Sunday, that it offers money back to patrons if they do not like the attraction.

In a statement issued today, H. E. Yost, manager of the theater, declared that if any patron, after viewing the picture, can conscientiously say they did not enjoy "We Americans" the admission fee will be refunded without argument.

"Oh, my," cried Scatty, look up there. Poor Clowny's speeding through the air. That great big bird is stealing him. I fear he'll never come back. To Clowny it may be a thrill to be picked up in some bird's bill, but I'd be mighty scared. Just look, he sure is real black."

Then Coppy said, "What can we do to help poor Clowny? Wish I knew. That bird will soon be out of sight and we'll be left behind. Let's look and find the butcher bird, 'cause he will help us if he can. At least if we are trying to help 'twill somewhat ease my mind."

So off they started, down a hill, all closely watching Clowny till the monstrous bird that carried him flew near a mountain top. "Oh, gee," yelled Carpy Tonymite, "the bird has now flown out of sight. My, wouldn't it drop if he'd let Clowny drop."

But Clowny didn't drop. Oh no! The big bird didn't let him go. He held him tightly in his claws and flew on through the air. "Where are we going?" Clowny cried. "Why did you take me on this ride? You left the others all behind. I wish I was back there."

And then the big bird circled round and dropped down nearer to the ground. A mountain loomed up not far off. The bird sailed out that way. "Please land me on the mountain side. I'm getting tired," wept Clowny.

"Twas fun to ride with you, but I have had enough today."

The queer bird seemed to understand. He swooped right down where he could land. Then Clowny got a big surprise, and loudly cried, "Hurrah! The bird has done his very best to be a real kind." "Twas in a nest of little birds he landed. Then the big bird flew away.

variety in asparagus

THE simplest way of preparing asparagus is to wash and scrape. Tie in uniform bunches with the tips even. Cut thick ends off crosswise about four inches from the tips. These ends may be saved for soup.

Arrange the asparagus bunch straight up in rapidly boiling water, in such a way that the tips are just out of the water. Add a teaspoon of salt and boil eight minutes. Then immerse the asparagus completely and boil four minutes longer (the tips cook quicker than the stems). Dip slices of buttered toast in the asparagus water, drain, arrange asparagus on toast and serve hot with melted butter.

Here are four other ways of preparing this tender vegetable that is too often denied the variety to which it lends itself:

ASPARAGUS TIPS A LA POMPADOUR

Prepare asparagus as usual. Boil in enough chicken stock to cover. When done, remove asparagus, reduce liquid by boiling to two-thirds of a cup. Beat two egg yolks in the top of a double boiler. While beating add the chicken stock. Add a few grains of cayenne pepper. Cook and stir until thick. Just before removing from fire, stir in one tablespoon of melted butter. Pour over cooked asparagus.

LUNCHEON ASPARAGUS

Take as many French rolls as there are persons to serve. Cut a piece neatly out of the top crust of each roll, taking care that it will fit in the roll. Scoop out most of the crumbs from the inside. Crisp crumbs in oven or saute in hot butter.

Take a cup of milk. Beat up the yolks of two eggs in it. Season with salt and a pinch of nutmeg or pepper. Stir it over a slow fire until it begins to thicken. Add some left-over asparagus cut up into small pieces. Add any left-over ham, chicken, veal or fish that you have on hand. (Cut up meat into small bits.) Add crumbs.

Fill rolls with the mixture. Put on the tops, place under broiler flame to crisp and serve hot.

LEFT-OVER ASPARAGUS

Arrange in a buttered glass baking dish, a layer of left-over asparagus cut into fine bits. Sprinkle with grated cheese. Repeat layers of asparagus and cheese until dish is nearly full. Pour white or cream sauce over all. Sprinkle grated cheese and buttered bread crumbs over the top. Place in moderate oven until browned on top.

ASPARAGUS PUDDING

Mix together 2 tablespoons of cold minced ham, 2 eggs well beaten, pepper and salt to taste, 3 tablespoons of sifted flour, and 1 tablespoon of butter. Stir in 2 cups of milk. Put in 2 cupsful of asparagus cut into small pieces, beat well together and put into a buttered mold. Dredge a cloth with flour, tie it over the top of the mold, set in a pan of boiling water and bake in a moderate oven for one hour. Serve with drawn butter sauce.

the house goes futuristic

—and the living room is worst of all

Bath-tub chairs and a low, lithe divan are grouped over a rug of geometric pattern.

The chair of this desk set . . . sets into the desk to form a perfect arc. (Photos courtesy R. H. Macy & Co.)

The ultra-modern "comfort chair" has a table inspired by the lines of a skyscraper.

THIS season, for the first time, a satisfying picture may be had of what an entire modernistic house would look like.

Color schemes, walls, floors, furniture, lamps, sofa pillows, rugs, table linens, silver, china and all the rest of the things that a family sleeps on, lives in, eats from and with, and gazes at now have their strictly modern interpretations.

Vain ornamentation becomes a thing of the past. Soft curves give way to severe angles. Just as speed has created the lines of new motor cars, so sophisticated living requirements have determined the lines of modern pieces. With space at a premium as it is today, everything about a modern room, from its architecture to its accessories, has been designed to increase the size of rooms. Instead of feet much of this furniture has solid bases, and such chairs and davenport hug the floor so low that no footstools are needed for comfort.

New materials come into use. New colors. New patterns. Highly lacquered woods, steel, silver, bronze, mother of pearl, glass and aluminum are used lavishly with lovely woods such as fine-grained maples, velvety ash and rich palisander—a gleaming species of rosewood.

WHEN an entire interior is done modernistically, a unified harmony replaces the bizarre effect of a few odd pieces in an ordinary room. Striking, beautiful, stimulating—these rooms still achieve a comfortable look.

In a recent showing of modernistic furniture, the living-room, bedrooms and dining-room showed the remarkable results that can be achieved by the modernist.

Each room is a unit, from the rugs to the wall coverings. The living-room is iconoclastic, but not eccentric. It is practical, livable and charming but 100 per cent modern.

An effect of greater space has been achieved by having all the pieces low. Even the traditional fireplace height is reduced, with a mirror over it framed so unobtrusively that one merely gets the idea of more space from its reflections.

The whole effect of the living room is neutral tannish gray—restful so no bright color could possibly be. The walls are in blocked effect, subdivided in their light, dark and medium squares. The ceiling and floor are the medium shade.

The modernistic rugs of geometric design are in blue, gray, rose and tan. Chairs are in the same neutral shade. Most noticeable among these are the "bath-tub" chairs that round so comfortably.

Modernistic lines are low, angular . . . furniture hugs the floor, gives a feeling of greater space.

The grouping of davenport, two chairs and a table in one corner is especially delightful. This davenport is newest of the new. It does not sprawl but its lithe, flowing lines have intelligent meaning. It is of palisander, with ivory inlays decorating it. The table beside it is modernistic straight lines.

Its upholstery is of tete de negre fur velvet, a rich material and each of its pillows of gleaming silk contributes a modern note by its shape, color and geometric design.

THE curtains show a new fashion for draperies, almost a triangular treatment. These are of silver and deeper gray velvet.

A low and broad bookcase is worthy of attention. Instead of running its shelves straight across, its center features cupboards, thus reducing the bulkiness of its appearance by slenderizing it.

Another low chair and low table cannot possibly escape notice. This is the second most popular type of modernistic living-room chair, "the comfort chair," a square-backed chair that tilts its occupant to comfort, whether he wills or no. This one is done in a silvery beige mohair and in plain color, avoiding the banal and frivolous and exuding a sense of rich comfort.

The low table by its side, of palisander, shows the tendency towards different levels that furniture takes nowadays, getting its ideas from the set-backs of skyscrapers and from the different levels of transportation one meets in the great cities.

The desk set shown on this page is composed entirely of circular pieces, with the chair fitting its curved self into the desk when not in use to form a perfect arc. It is made of scarlet leather, grained like lizard. All the accessories for the desk are in matching leather, as are many of the smart accoutrements that go to make up a modernistic interior.

tempting an appetite

WE ALL agree that children should not be unduly pampered when it comes to their food. Some practical parents say that if a child is hungry he will eat whatever is put before him and enjoy it. This is but partly true. Young children have sensibilities and moods and likes and dislikes.

An idea that appeals to children is to give the foods names: Paddy Potato, Charley Carrot, Sally Spinach, Billy Bean, Sam Soup, etc. Many a toddler will ask for a second helping just for the joy of saying, "I want some more Ole Oatmeal."

Most children eat their spinach under protest. Try fixing it this way and notice the difference in appetites:

Wash spinach well, cook in as little water as possible. Do not cook any longer than five minutes. Drain and pass through the food grinder. Drain again. Stir in some butter and salt. Place a slice of hard-boiled egg in the bottom of an individual gelatin mold or a cup. Fill with spinach, press down hard, and turn out on a plate.

Put a ring of mashed potato "roses" around the base of the spinach. Don't bother getting out your pastry tubes for this. Cut off one of the bottom corners of a small paper bag. Put mashed potatoes in bag and squeeze out in form of "roses."

CARROTS may be cut (before boiling) into fancy stars and other shapes by a little knife that can be purchased for 10 cents. This knife looks like a tiny piece of an old-fashioned washboard. The carrots are washed and scraped in the usual way, and then cut crosswise with this implement. It is no more trouble than if you were using an ordinary vegetable knife.

Tiny potato balls (made by scooping out the potato before or after boiling, with a tiny cup-shaped spoon) are well liked by children.

Children enjoy soup twice as much if little egg alphabet letters are boiled in the broth. They love to "eat up their names" letter by letter.

Occasionally, substitute baked pear for baked apple. The change will be welcomed.

PARE and core large pears. Stuff cavity with seeded raisins or stoned dates. Put a spoonful of marmalade or shredded coconut on top. Bake slowly until tender, using no sugar and just enough water to cover the bottom of the pan. These pears are very nice served with custard sauce.

Raw, ripe apples are excellent for youngsters, particularly because of their mildly laxative effect. If your child does not care for this fruit "au naturel" or cut up in the ordinary way, he may be induced to eat apples cut into tiny cubes and rolled in powdered sugar.

A similar trick may be done with oranges, which are also valuable for the fruit acid they contain. Cut a whole orange in the form of a little basket with a handle. Separate the fruit from the skin with a grapefruit knife and cut into very small pieces. Mixed with sugar these bits will tempt almost any child.

hard boiling your son

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

FATHER in his office is telling a friend what a fine boy he has, that he has just taken out more life insurance so that if anything happens to him his son will be sure of an education; he mentions proudly how smart Bobby is, and other things which show his friend how deeply he loves his son and how wisely he hopes to express his affections.

But when he goes home there is nothing in his manner to tell Bobby how deep the love of his father is. Indeed it seems as though he is systematically trying to destroy the affection of the boy.

The years are slowly rolling into an impenetrable barrier between them. Mother is widowed this barrier by making Bobby's father the house disciplinarian. When he comes home he is judge and jury of all Bobby's misdemeanors through the day. Also he is the dispenser of punishment. However, the person upon whom such an estrangement may usually be blamed is father himself. If he will stop and think back, when Bobby has grown to manhood, and when Bobby's affairs have gone wrong and he has gone to a stranger instead of coming straight to him and making a clean breast of everything and seeking his help—if he will think back over the years—perhaps he can recall a few things.

THE very day that he has been telling the friend of the insurance and the plans he has for the most wonderful boy on earth he goes home and behaves in the following manner:

As he opens the front door he says sharply, "Bobby, get that wagon out of the front yard. Haven't I told you repeatedly not to let your things lie around? Someone will fall over it in the dark. Your tie's torn. What happened?" Mother calls from the kitchen, "He went into that new building and came home a perfect sight. He was an hour late."

"You keep out of that new building. Next time it will be your neck. And you walk right home here after school—no loitering. Now go up and fix your tie and wash your hands. Mother says supper's ready."

Poor Bobby! He had been so glad to see his father. Only that day he had been bragging to the fellows how grand he was.

At supper: "Bobby, don't take such big bites, and don't you hear your mother tell you to stop smacking your lips! Stop whistling at the table! No attempt at conversation—no attempt to inquire what the things Bobby has been doing, except to criticize.

AFTER supper it was the same. The little chap could not move without censure. His fine big father, whom he loved so, wouldn't talk to him, wouldn't play with him, wouldn't allow him to do anything himself. He read his paper in silence, worked his radio awhile, and then suggested a game of bridge with some neighbors after Bobby had gone to bed.

The boy soon began to ask, in the evening after dinner, "Dad, may I go over to Alan's house?" Alan lived next door and had the jolliest father who never minded noise, and often read aloud to his son, heard his spelling lesson, and showed him all about the radio and how it worked. He talked to Bobby, too, when he came in, as though he were another son.

Bob's father never seemed to mind his going over to Alan's. Alan was a nice boy and he was glad his son had such a friend. He didn't know it was more Alan's father than Alan, whom Bobby went to see.

Bobby wouldn't have admitted that anyone's father was as fine as his own. His affection for his neighbor's father was as unconscious as it was sincere.

Years later when he was in trouble it was Alan's father to whom he went instead of his own. And his father, wounded to the heart, could neither understand nor forgive it.

The time for a father to make a friend of his son is when his son is born. And a wise mother will never come between them, by making the father the house disciplinarian.

spring beauty

PERHAPS it is because in the spring a young man's fancy fondly turns to thoughts of love that a young girl's fancy then fondly turns to thoughts of her personal appearance.

But whatever the cause, at no time of year is my maid and matron fair, or otherwise, so concerned with her skin, the sparkle in her eye, the sheen on her hair and the lift in her walk as in the spring of the year.

The desire for spring beauty should move every woman to use—right now—a good combination bleaching and cleansing cream each night, leaving a little dab on over night. The cream will whiten, remove chap and roughness, and make the skin soft and velvety all in one process.

The cream should be washed off with clear warm water in the morning, and the skin dabbed with an astringent in cold water. A final rub with a bit of ice will complete the process.

If the neckline shows the effect of the grimy fur collars and tight neck bands of winter, a stronger bleach than that found in a cream is necessary.

The hair should perhaps show the vernal influence more than any other beauty feature. Brush, brush and brush it, freeing it from lint and soot and all the wintertime afflictions. If you're "run down," a good tonic for the body will do more for your hair than anything in the world, for beautiful hair is a positive result of good health.

Go without a hat as much as possible. Wash your hair in old-fashioned cistern water and sit a-sunning in the back yard as you dry it. Use a dash of strained lemon juice in the rinse water. Don't be afraid to loosen the hair in the spring and let it fly a bit.

sewing for a daughter

A COTTON one-piece dress, that a little girl has outgrown in length, makes a charming smock for the same little miss. It does not matter whether the sleeves are long or short, either are acceptable in style. The dress should have a yoke added, smocked across the front and back, and a touch of smocking should be added at the cuff line of the sleeves.

A couple of gathered pockets placed just below the belt-line will make the smock still prettier. The smock that just reaches to the hemline is perhaps the most graceful and, according to the length decided upon, the pockets may be large or small, placed high or rather low.

A very pretty smock was "made over" from an old pink crepe dress. The pockets were embroidered to represent tan baskets filled with pink and blue flowers, and heavy black floss outlined the pockets and was used again for smocking on yoke and sleeves.

COTTON middy blouses with collars and cuffs of faded red or blue can many times be greatly improved by substituting plain white drizzling. If the braid is carefully ripped off the old collars and cuffs, it can be resown on the new white collars to look like new. The drizzling should be washed and shrunk, however, before it is added to the old garment.

The style of a middy suit can be completely changed, too, by substituting various materials for collars and cuffs. Cotton crepe in pink, blue, lavender and green is often effective, with a trimming band of the same material used on the skirt. And even percale has pleasing possibilities.

Another pretty little make-over affair for the small miss is a taffeta frock, cut from one of mother's. No matter how small the pieces or how many the patches, little ruffles of taffeta, picoted or hemstitched, can be used to cover up seams.

Ruffles put on at angles are a fad of the hour, and give perkiness to a dress of this sort.

One little frock, made of black taffeta, had its somberness completely relieved by collars and cuffs of net, frilled with cream Valenciennes lace, and ribbons of palest green moire, threaded through the collars and cuffs. And a shoulder bouquet of multi-colored flowers was worn, of course, to match mother's grown-up style.

For new dresses, a tuck or two in waist and skirt will not go amiss, either for convenience when remodeling or for style. Very broad tucks are good on skirts and narrow ones on straight little waists add demureness to such materials as prints, organdies and voiles.

A MEANS of lengthening a skirt or a waist is the use of insertion and contrasting materials, too. A pale green voile was recently seen, with broad bands of coarse mesh lace in waist and skirt, and the mother who made the frock confined the lace served to lengthen a badly outgrown dress.

The result, however, was to make the dress prettier than when it was first made.

Sheer white organdie bands, narrow or deep, are a pretty addition to ginghams or percales when lace is not suitable. Reversing this same idea, colored materials, checked and dotted, add smartness to plain white dresses of play time design.

Many mothers now make their small daughters'

ZONING ORDINANCE PASSED AT LAGUNA

LAGUNA BEACH, April 13.—Passage of the amendment to the zoning ordinance, reading of new petitions asking additional changes and adoption of the electrical ordinance were the chief items coming before the council Wednesday night. The report of the auditor who went over the city's books, and the report of City Engineer A. J. Stead were read before the council, the latter being referred to the incoming council. It was the final meeting of the present council, only one member of which, Frank B. Champion, will be a member of the new council.

The report of the auditor showed that during the career of the city from the time of incorporation to March 31, 1928, a total of about nine months, receipts from all sources amounted to $24,392.07, and disbursements were $19,918.21, leaving a balance of $4473.86.

The regular meeting of the Business and Professional Woman's club will be held in the evening.

BUENA PARK

BUENA PARK, April 13.—The Rev. Burton Y. Neal learned this morning that his son, Lloyd Neal, who lives in Tustin, was hit by a freight train last night at Santa Ana.

S. L. Nesbit, of Long Beach, and Miss Jennie Nesbit, of Columbus, Ohio, who have been house guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hagerty since Monday, will conclude their pleasant visit on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Strain, of Anaheim, were Tuesday visitors of Mrs. W. P. Strain, Mr. Strain's mother.

The Friendly Indians met Wednesday night at the Community hall with Edwin Bostad as leader.

The Rev. Burton Y. Neal was a Los Angeles visitor Wednesday.

The Dixie Jubilee singers entertained about 300 Buena Park song lovers Wednesday evening. The net returns will help buy grammar school equipment.

Floyd Neal, Mrs. B. Y. Neal and Mrs. Livingston visited Mrs. Livingston's son, Charles Livingston, in Pico Wednesday.

Harry L. Pierce, of Los Angeles, architect for the new Congregational church to be built here soon, called Wednesday and delivered the blue prints to the board of trustees.

ONE FOR SHERLOCK

LONDON, April 13.—A swindle involving nearly $25,000, recently was revealed here. A group of London business men were induced by an apparently honest stranger, posing as a diamond merchant, to advance the money as a loan on some diamonds. Examined by an expert, the diamonds were found to be real. However, at the end of six months, when the loan expired, opening of the package revealed only imitations. It is thought that the stranger, by a sleight-of-hand trick, replaced the genuine diamonds with substitutes before the package was rewrapped and placed in a safe.

John Muir

The John Muir P.-T. A. enjoyed one of its pleasant and successful meetings Tuesday evening in the kindergarten room. A cafeteria supper preceded the program and gratifyingly swelled the P.-T. A. treasury. The evening was devoted to the reunion of former students of John Muir and their friend and parents with the present attendance.

The Frances E. Willard orchestra with its leader, S. J. Mustol, opened the program. The former students of John Muir playing in the orchestra were Marvin Rohrs, Donald Stevens and Rees Allison. One of the pieces played by the orchestra was cleverly accompanied in spoken part by George Monroe.

Barbara Rowland of the sixth grade gave a greeting of welcome to the former students and this was responded to by Miss Eva Dean Caskey. Miss Caskey represents the first class to finish the sixth grade of John Muir in June, 1922. She is now a senior in S. A. high school.

Betty Sutherland, a demure little kindergartner, sang "Among My Souvenirs" which she had learned from the radio.

Jim Stevens of the class of February, 1928 read a short sketch of the life of John Muir clearly explaining to the present pupils some of the reasons for the choice of the name John Muir for their schools. Marvin Rohrs of the class of February, 1928, played two solos on a steel guitar.

Lathrop boys are hoping to "put over" the biggest Father and Son banquet at the Y. M. C. A. Friday night, in the history of the school.

A "spic and span" new book of songs is being completed for the occasion. On the first page will appear Jeanette Roby's prize school song. Tickets are selling rapidly.

An excellent program is being prepared and a hearty welcome will be extended to all boys and their fathers who are able to attend.

HEART STOPS

NEW YORK, April 13.—Seven hours after his heart action had stopped, John H. Scott, 50, of Montclair, Essex county, N. J., was revived by Dr. Henry C. Harris of Glen Ridge, N. J., and apparently is on the road to recovery. His heart trouble, physicians claim, was caused from over-exertion in an election campaign in which he was elected county clerk for the third time.

PROPAGANDA OF RUSSIA HIT IN FOREIGN LANDS

BY J. W. T. MASON
(Written for the United Press)

NEW YORK, April 13.—Failure is following the professed desire of the Russian Soviet authorities to bring to an end Bolshevik propaganda in foreign countries, directed from Moscow. When Leon Trotsky was exiled, the reason given was that his support of foreign propaganda was embarrassing to Russia and was retarding the establishment of an amicable understanding between the Moscow government and the western powers. But, indications are accumulating that despite Trotsky's absence, the spirit he represents is still strong in Soviet circles and is actively manifesting itself.

Relations between Germany and Russia, which were on the way to betterment a short time ago, once again have become strained owing, in part, to the persistent Bolshevik efforts to incite German working classes to extreme action. Bolshevik agents have been found pleading with Germans to refuse to accept compulsory arbitration awards and to show a revolutionary front. Poland and Lithuania also report indications of secret Bolshevik propaganda among workingmen. There is a suggestion, too, that the French communists are accepting direction from Moscow.

British Strike Cited
Russians advance the argument that if foreigners ask Bolshevik advice and assistance, there can be no legitimate objection as long as the Russian government, itself, does not officially respond to these overtures. If individual Bolshevik activists in Moscow wish to correspond with communists abroad, that is held to be outside the control of the Russian government. It has been pointed out that during the recent strike of miners in Great Britain, a committee of British strike leaders visited the United States and collected money for the strike fund without any objection being taken, although "Emperor" Cook, in charge of the strike, openly proclaimed his purpose was communistic.

German government authorities who are attempting to prevent Russian propaganda in their country, do not see the matter in this light. They maintain that it is not possible to differentiate between the Moscow government and the Russian international propagandists in Moscow, except in theory. It is a principle of international amity that no government shall permit activities against another government to continue unchecked within its borders. By this custom, Russia should terminate the so-called unofficial propaganda work.

Cause of Trotsky's Exile
This was apparently the intention of Soviet leaders when Trotsky was exiled. The failure to do so suggests that intrigue has become so strongly attached to Bolshevikism as to make its presence inevitable wherever the Soviet ideas flourish. Without the promise of a world revolution held out before the Bolsheviks, as the eventual solution of their economic problems, it is necessary to produce immediate results in economic improvement. But, the results are not showing. There is no special difference in Russia's condition since Trotsky was exiled. The only major occurrence has been the development of a crisis with Germany, ostensibly following the arrest of German citizens in Russia, but really due to Germany's resentment at Bolshevik propaganda work.

Whiskey Fatal To Student In London

LONDON, April 13.—"Here's to the Twelve Club!" Wilson Sporborg raised his glass aloft and gave the toast to the club, a literary society of talented young undergraduates at Cambridge university.

The club had held its annual dinner in the hall of Emanuel college. After dinner the members repaired to the rooms of Captain Aarvold of the University rugby team for further refreshment.

An undergraduate, filling Sporborg's glass, demanded that he "say when." Sporborg said nothing. His glass was filled to the brim. "Here's to the Twelve" courtyard. His friends found him rose to their feet to answer the toast.

Shortly afterwards, as Sporborg was leaving for his own rooms, he fell on his face in the Sporborg proposed, and the party unconscious. He died the following morning without regaining consciousness.

At the inquest, his tutor, the college porter, and his friends described him as a steady youth who never drank to excess. It did not occur to his friends, they said, that it was foolish to drink a full tumbler of neat whiskey.

They declared that they did not realize the deceased was seriously ill when they undressed him after carrying him to his rooms. Neither the tutor nor a doctor was called until morning. Then it was too late.

Paper Sack Found To Contain $54.85

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—Somebody had a strange sense of humor when they put $54.85 in an ordinary paper bag and then tossed it into a vacant lot.

Even Patrolman Stephen Desmond was suspicious that any such thing could happen and turned scornfully away when little Bobby Miller came running up to hand him the bag containing the money.

"I have no time for mud pies," policeman Desmond remarked and prepared to resume his duties.

"Mud pies nothin'," little Bobby shouted back.

This statement aroused the officer's interest and he looked for himself. Bobby was right. In the bag was $54.85 in small change.

"I found it while I was playing in a vacant lot and mamma told me to give it to a policeman," Bobby volunteered.

Officer Desmond has not been able to decide why anyone should be so anxious to rid themselves of that sum of money that they would throw it into a vacant lot.

WOMAN BUYS TOWN; NOW SHE'S MAYOR

GARBER, Mo., April 13.—Mrs. Ada Clodfelter, wealthy widow, is indeed mistress of all she surveys.

Garber was in the "dumps" when Mrs. Clodfelter came along and bought the whole town, lock, stock, barrel and everything. Her possessions include 160 acres of ground on which are located the postoffice, railroad station, a general store and a cluster of houses.

Now Garber has a new grip on life. Its 50 inhabitants are hopeful that under the guidance of their new benefactor the town soon will grow by leaps and bounds. Mrs. Clodfelter outlined an ambitious program for the town's welfare and already the lethargy that has kept it in a rut these many years has been broken by the spell of new activity.

In recognition of her services thus far, townspeople held a meeting and elected Mrs. Clodfelter mayor. Then she made known her plans to inject some snap into the affairs of this dozing, picturesque little settlement. She said she would build a summer resort whose fame would spread far and wide.

Once before Garber experienced the thrill of notoriety. That was when Harold Bell Wright chose this small town as the setting for the picturization of his Shepherd of the Hills. One of his principal characters was "Old Matt" (J. K. Ross), postmaster who also operated the general store. But after the first wave of popularity had passed, Garber settled back again and dozed.

The town nestles in a valley a short distance from Mutton hollow and Roark creek and is one of Missouri's oldest settlements. Before Mrs. Clodfelter took hold of things it looked as if Garber would always be in a rut. But right off she said she was going to put the town on the map for keeps and townspeople pitched in to help carry out her plans.

Mrs. Clodfelter plans to build a large tourist hotel, some tourist cabins, another general store and some other improvements. She has applied for the position of postmistress in the same store where "Old Matt" worked and she hopes to transform Garber into a suitable memorial to Shepherd of the Hills.

Mrs. Clodfelter operates two boarding houses at Springfield. Just as soon as she can dispose of these she plans to build her own home in the heart of her paradise settlement.

TUNNEL BUILT BELOW RIVER AT LIVERPOOL

LIVERPOOL, April 13.—One hundred and fifty feet below the surface of the River Mersey men are at work constructing a tunnel, two and a half miles long.

It is estimated that it will cost $25,000,000 and that it will carry 2,000,000 vehicles during its first year.

The construction allows for a 44-foot roadway which will accommodate four lines of traffic with sufficient space to allow vehicles to reach a speed of 30 miles an hour or more, with comparative safety. The lighting will consist of two rows of powerful incandescent lamps carefully shaded to prevent glare from the white or cream colored walls.

Vehicles will proceed down a gradual incline into the tunnel. There will be no street cars, shops, or anything that will, in any way, interfere with the traffic.

In conjunction with this scheme, the tunnel will be the connecting link of a great network of arterial roads. These will ultimately run from the east coast of Yorkshire, through the industrial regions of Yorkshire and Lancashire, beneath the River Mersey by the tunnel, to joint other roads to North Wales or the working areas of the Staffordshire Potteries or Birmingham. A road through Lancashire which will cost $15,000,000 is already planned.

The plan is not only a great aid to commercial traction systems to and from the docks in this district, but it will, it is hoped, entirely do away with the confusion which occurs on the ferry-boats when the weather is foggy, or the sea choppy. These have been a continual source of delay.

A million tons of rock will be excavated, and 137,000 tons of iron and 75,000 tons of cement will be used in the construction of the road and tunnel. Although the work is two months ahead of schedule, it will be three years before the tunnel will be opened for the public use.

MEXICO HAS LIVELY TEMBLOR HISTORY

By GESFORD F. FINE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

MEXICO CITY, April 13.—Two earthquakes of considerable severity within a month have served to remind Mexicans that the earthquake history of Mexico goes back 468 years.

The first quake registered, according to information in the national library gathered by the Scientific society, was in 1460.

There were four other temblors of varying intensity up to the end of the century. Beginning in 1507 there were fourteen quakes during the century.

In 1613, records reveal, there was a tremendous eruption of Mount Orizaba (state of Vera Cruz), with a consequent earthquake felt throughout New Spain. Another tremor with terrifying

CONSTIPATION PREYS ON HEALTH

You can overcome it with ALL-BRAN

If you are troubled with constipation, read Mrs. Hogan's letter below. It came to us unsolicited—a message of relief to every sufferer:

February 12, 1927

"I want to tell you how much good your ALL-BRAN has done me. I surely can't be bad for constipation. I have tried every kind of medicine and never in my whole life have been relieved so easily. One of my neighbors told me to try bran. So I bought a box and read about your ALL-BRAN and thought I would see what it would do. And it worked for me. I will never be without it in the house again."

Mrs. JOSEPH HOGAN,
1218 Clay St., Topeka, Kansas.

Constipation is almost universal. The cause of more than forty diseases. Dizziness, aching backs, circled eyes, bad complexions, are only a few of its symptoms.

Guard against it. Start tomorrow eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Two tablespoonsfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal. Guaranteed. Doctors recommend it.

A healthful cereal. Serve ALL-BRAN with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey. Sprinkle it into soups. Use it in cooking. Sold by all grocers. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

results followed in 1622 in Zacatecas. In 1664 Popocatepetl (only 40 miles from the city and still active) erupted and from that year until 1855, temblors were frequent. Perhaps the most picturesque account of a quake is that of the year 1727 in Oaxaca. "The houses did a macabre dance, the church towers tottered to the ground with horrible crashes and in the belfrys that remained standing, the bells intoned sonorously, rocked by the night while he went his way to seek him another bed."

The records then tell how the Oaxaqueños in their fright organized a procession to the shrine of the Virgin of Soledad, their patron saint. Precisely when the head of the procession reached the church, there was another terrible quake, the faithful left in droves and no amount of urging by the priests could make them return.

Passing up the 19th century when Mexico was given a rest for the most part from earthquakes, we come to the great quake of 1911 which occurred as General Francisco Madero's victorious revolutionary army was entering the capital...."Cuando Madero entró hasta la tierra tembló," said the Mexicans. "When Madero entered, even the earth trembled."

About 70 persons were killed, most of them in one spot, when a wall fell.

SAFEWAY STORES

DISTRIBUTION WITHOUT WASTE

An Organization of Mutual Helpfulness

The spirit of mutual helpfulness, practiced among members of this organization, is one of the most important factors in the phenomenal growth—in number and popularity—of Safeway Stores. This willingness to help his fellows—and be helped by them—enables the Safeway Man to effect operating economies and accomplish tasks that—working alone or at cross-purposes—he could not hope to accomplish. You, as the consumer, profit by this co-operation among members of our organization through the greater values it permits us to give you.

Cudahy's Puritan Bacon

"First in the land"

Distinguished for Finer Flavor

For any meal there is nothing so tempting and delicious as Cudahy's Puritan Bacon, which adds so much to the flavor of other dishes.

The finer flavor for which Puritan Bacon is so distinguished is due to the Special Cudahy Method of preparing selected young meats.

This method diffuses the meat's rich juice in a natural way, without forcing or hurrying. Puritan is therefore superbly mild, sweet, tender and appetizing in any serving.

Puritan Bacon—sliced—is packed in modern, sanitary, transparent, protecting wrappers in 1-lb. and 1/2-lb. parcels and put up in special dealer display cartons. Puritan is also sold sliced in individual cartons or by the piece. At your dealer's. "The Taste Tells."

Says Juries Strict In Liquor Trials

BOISE, Idaho, April 13.—Idaho juries are beginning to realize that rigid enforcement of the national prohibition laws is necessary according to Judge C. C. Cavanah, of Boise.

"Juries in Idaho are showing that they realize that the only course for justice is strict enforcement of the national prohibition act," Judge Cavanah said.

There is a tendency on the part of the public to connect the degree of enforcement of the prohibition laws with the general attitude toward law and order, according to Judge Cavanah. He stated in part:

"Citizens are beginning to appreciate, I believe, that a loose attitude toward the prohibition law is conducive of a general disregard for law and order. A certainty of swift battle of the porcupine many years ago. One of the quills, which entered his body during the fight, worked its way up until it reached one of his lungs. Infection set in and he died following a painful

Ernest Loring is dead because he and his wife were ill.

Observations of an old Codger

"God bless the man that invented sleep," said Sancho Panzo. Why didn't he include pain? No one likes pain. But it should be a sort of idol set up prominently in every home. For while you do not agree (no one agrees with me at first) pain is our real friend.

Pain is the "Stop, Look, and Listen" sign on our day's ways. It is the petty speed limit penalty personified in the traffic officer. It is the grind of the ungreased bearing. It's the WARNING. Pity the people who refused to be warned by their petty pains. And if you can't stop petty pains sometime they'll stop you.

A grouchy tooth! Go to your dentist. A sting in the shoulder—see a dentist or doctor. A burning about the heart, a hot brick in your 'ittle tummy—say, why don't you head off all this trouble by drinking a quart of Excelsior milk every day. Try it for 60 days. Then you will agree with me.

SPEAKERS WILL BE TRAINED IN Y. M. C. A. CLASS

A new class in public speaking is to be offered at the Y. M. C. A. in response to requests from various men for further opportunity for help in that line.

A ten weeks' course was completed last week, under the direction of General Secretary R. C. Smedley, who has helped many men in Santa Ana to develop their ability as orators, both in classes and in the toastmasters clubs.

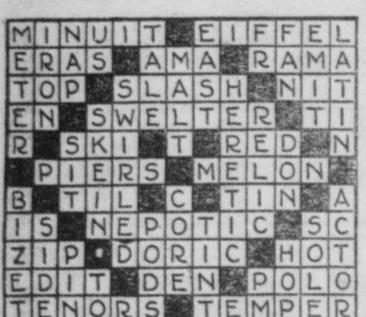

The class which finished was a most successful one, according to Smedley's report, and a number of its members have already gained admission to the Toastmasters Club.

Several men who were unable to get into the former course are now asking for another chance, and Smedley has consented to give the course again, provided at least ten men want it.

The organization session will be held Thursday evening, April 19, at a dinner at 6:30, at the Y. M. C. A. The class is open to any man who desires to learn to use his natural ability to improve his speech, both in conversation and in extemporaneous speaking.

Men who are interested are requested to notify the Y. M. C. A. office.

The course will run through ten lessons, and will give a constructive study of the elementary essentials of good speech. The course used is one which has been prepared by Smedley as the outgrowth of many years of work in helping men to speak, and it is designed to meet the needs of the busy man who wants to gain ease and facility in speech-making as quickly as possible.

Road To 3 Seas Built In Italy

ROME, April 13.—A great national road skirting Italy's three seas, the Tyrrhenian, the Ionian and the Adriatic, is the latest important public work to be undertaken by the Fascist government.

The "road of the three seas," which will join Ventimiglia with Flume via the entire coastal extent of the peninsula, already exists in great part, but there are several sections in south Italy, where it is interrupted for many miles. In other sections, the links consist of small local roads in bad state of repair.

An entirely new section, to be called the Adriatic "Litteorean," has been planned, and will run from the south of Apulia along the Adriatic to Bari, Ancona and Rimini. The new road will take two or three years to build.

NEW YORK STOCKS

(By The Wall Street Journal)
NEW YORK, April 13.—In a last minute burst of strength, General Electric broke through the former price of 198 and led the entire market, which had been slightly reactionary in the last hour after buoyancy through the first four hours. Sales exceeded the 4,000,000 mark.

Before the reaction a long list of issues rose to new high ground, the features of the day being Bethlehem, Consolidated Gas and General Electric, all on the selling more than 11 points above the previous close. Railroad shares were led by New York Central, foods by National Biscuit, tobaccos by Philip Morris, Motors by Hudson and Marmon, issues by Schulte.

EVENING SALUTATION
Keep pushing—tis wiser
Than sitting aside,
And dreaming and sighing.
And waiting the tide.
In life's earnest battle
They only prevail
Who daily march onward
And never say fail!

INSTIGATORS OF CRIME

The solution of banditry, bandits being what they are, is not so simple as offering a reward for dead ones. In Texas there is considerable evidence that that plan only makes matters worse. Some months ago the Texas Bankers' Association offered a standing reward of $5,000 for dead bank bandits but not one cent for a live one. Within two weeks two men were killed at the back door of a bank in Odessa, a West Texas village, by four officers who shared a reward of $10,000. During the next fortnight three Mexicans were shot down while standing in front of a bank at Stanton. Two of the Mexicans died instantly but a third lived. Subsequently two more men were shot down at the back of a bank at Rankin. They were instantly killed.

Now Captain Hamer, a senior ranger captain, has presented evidence before the Grand Jury of Upton county that none of the four men, other than the Mexicans knew for what purpose they were to go to a tryst near the bank buildings and further that has been established that the Mexicans had not thought of robbery; that they were all lured to the banks where they were shot.

The reward was offered to encourage bank employees to greater vigilance but in no case has an employee killed a bandit. It is more horrible to lure another man to a compromising spot and then shoot him for a reward to rob a bank. It is scarcely to the discredit of the bankers that when they offered their reward they did not realize that there were such fiends. But now that there seems to be a possibility, even if not a certainty, that killings have been planned for a reward, they should see that they were innocent instigators of terrible crime and drop it forthwith. There is a vast difference between rewarding men for discovering criminals and rewarding them for finding specific men who have already committed crime. The latter is helpful, the former dangerous.

Since the bandana is the recognized symbol of the bandit it must be dangerous indeed for a Texan to wipe his perspiring brow in the vicinity of a bank.

THE ATTEMPT ON ITALY'S KING

The attempted assassination of King Victor Emmanuel in Milan is used as an occasion by Mussolini to arouse sentiment on behalf of the fascists. He charges the attempted assassination plot to the anti-fascists, thereby endeavoring to win the loyalty of great numbers who have been out of sympathy with his regime, but who are far from anarchists.

It is difficult for anyone looking at it from this distance to see any reason why those who are opposed to Mussolini and his regime should attempt to destroy the life of the king, who is probably as much out of sympathy with Mussolini and his attitude as any person in Italy can be. The king has lost all his powers and prerogatives. He has become, except on social occasions, which are extremely rare, a nonentity, due to the usurpation by the Duce of dictatorial powers.

The situation has been illustrated by the story of the king dropping his handkerchief which Mussolini picked up, saying "Maybe you will want this," and King Emmanuel is reported to have responded, "Yes, it is the only thing into which I can now stick my nose." We might conceive of some loyal patriot, friendly to the king, desiring to remove him from such a position of humiliation, but to destroy him as being a friend of fascism, it is too ridiculous to think of. The assassins were unquestionably aiming at the king, and may have been anarchists who are against all organized government, as such. Of course the king would be attacked as such a symbol though the real government of Italy no longer rests, to any serious degree, in King Emmanuel.

IT IS SAFER

Lindbergh says that flying is safer than automobileing, and when invited to take a ride the other day along a mountain road he asked if there was not a little space at which he could land at the point they were to visit, for he felt safer in his plane than in the automobile. We are beginning to understand. There is more room in the air; there is no one constantly trying to cut in on you. There is so much space that signals are not yet required when you are going to turn in any particular direction. There is no danger of bumps except in the few moments of landing, and you have to exercise that great care only during those few moments.

There are innumerable accidents with automobiles but they do not cause the thrill that an accident in an airplane does. We will never get over being thrilled by a falling body, but the dangers are today unquestionably less in making a trip through the air than on the highway in an automobile, with the great amount of traffic and impatient speedsters endeavoring to arrive too soon.

WILL GIVE HIM A CHANCE

Word comes from Washington that "dry" Democratic senators there are expecting that the "dry" Democratic vote in California will head off the Smith presidential boom on primary day. Maybe it will, but we haven't seen any evidence of it around here. It is possible that this is due in part to the scarcity of Democrats but those with whom we have come in contact are for Smith, nevertheless. While Senator Walsh and possibly Senator Reed would, in our judgment have a better show for election, undoubtedly the Governor of New York will be the candidate. It is well, probably, that it is so, for if he is ever to have a chance, the chance might just as well come now as any time, and he will be a forceable factor in the national convention until he has been given his chance. It is entirely possible that many people are for him because they realize that a "sacrifice hit" is necessary in order to clear the atmosphere.

WE HOPE FOR THE BEST

At this writing the German-Irish trans-atlantic flyers have not been definitely sighted on this side of the sea, but it is believed they shall make a safe landing at New York. We hope that this is true, though fears are entertained that the terrible gale into which they were forced to fly as they neared Newfoundland may have caused defeat, and that another tragedy will end this last brave effort to cross the Atlantic from east to west. It is an unfortunate time of year for such an effort to be made. Two months later the dangers of storm would be reduced by 75 per cent, but the anxiety of the hardy men to be the first that should accomplish the complete non-stop flight outweighs the caution which should come from the weather dangers.

If they made it, they are entitled to the great reception, acclaim and honor that will be theirs. If they did not make it, they are entitled to the credit for a courageous, if not a foolhardy attempt. Their success will enable men to calmly work for more perfect ships in which future flights can be made in safety. It will be difficult until the act has been completed, for the restless spirit of the pioneer to contain itself with the patience required to insure safety.

TAKE 'EM ON THE BIAS

Tom L. Johnson used to say that to enjoy life you should "take your bumps on the bias." Automobileists know what Tom meant by that suggestion. Tom had a lot of bumps in his stormy career but we would like to hear a lecture by an expert on "How to Fall." The Prince of Wales has had more falls with less hurts and more nerve than anyone else of whom we have read. We are beginning to suspect that there is a trick in it somewhere.

Now Japan is the nation which is reported to be on the verge of a split with Soviet Russia. There is very considerable rumor of a revolution in Japan and of course a revolution anywhere can have only one source, just now, in the minds of a great many people.

Mayor Thompson has changed his mind about resigning, even though he was licked. Nobody expected he would. It will take a siege gun to get him out of his job. The state's attorney may produce it.

Trivial Occurrence Turns Great Life

Pasadena Star-News

Abraham Lincoln was in his early twenties. He had read many books with avidity. Among those he had read was Revised Statutes of the State of Indiana. This gave him his first insight into the rudiments of law. But he drifted away from this. Engaged in menial pursuits of one kind and another and finally clerking in stores in New Salem, Illinois, later owning part interest in a store. One day an emigrant wagon came by, with a barrel which was regarded as excess baggage. The owner sold it to Abraham Lincoln for fifty cents. Mr. Lincoln, without looking into the barrel, put it in the rear of his store. Later, taking the barrel out, he turned it up and poured out its contents. In the bottom of the barrel was a copy of Blackstone's "Commentaries." Mr. Lincoln began to read it and soon was absorbed in it. He figuratively devoured it. That turned his mind definitely to the study of law. Biographers regard this apparently trivial occurrence as being the turning point in the career of young Lincoln. Up to that time he had drifted from one lowly work to another, without a definite aim in life. He pursued the study of law under difficulties and hardships, finally was admitted to the bar, and entered upon a professional career, meantime launching himself into politics which really was his goal in life.

This episode in the life of this great American is just another demonstration of the fact that nothing really is trivial—that Providence oftentimes takes the little things around which to weave human destiny and to shape careers which influences all mankind.

OUR CHILDREN

By Angelo Patri

STAGE FRIGHT

There is a sort of stage fright that overcomes children at times so that they cannot recite in class with any degree of success nor pass a test successfully although they are sure they know the right answers.

"I know it but when she calls on me I shake so I can't say a word and then she snaps at me, 'Sit down.' I don't blame her. I know I look like a fool. She thinks I'm dumb. What can I do? I lose all sense the minute I hear my name. Up to the time it is called I'm shivering inside me. Scared to death. Then I go home with a headache."

The first thing to do is to have the child examined by a good physician and determine what can be done to tone up her system. Her diet and exercise, sleep, baths, play, work, all must be tested out to discover if they are in any way at fault. Eyes and hearing are to be carefully tested and any defect found is to be remedied at once.

Then examine the people who surround this child. Watch them and their effect on the child. If they are the kind who make smart speeches to children, who delight in showing how silly the child is, how stupid, remove the child from under their influence with all speed. If there is a person who likes to make children suffer by holding up their little mistakes to public derision, remove that influence as soon as may be. Any person who instils fear, or self consciousness, or self depreciation is a very bad influence in the child's life and should be removed.

Go to school and talk to the teacher. Tell her that the child is afraid to talk in class and ask her or him as the case may be, to make a close and friendly relationship between him and the pupil. Ask the teacher to stop by this child's seat and smile at her, speak a friendly word in her ear, make her smile in return. Ask the teacher to make the child know she is among friends.

Ask the teacher to agree that for a while the pupil is to know exactly the question she is to be asked. It is agreed between the teacher and child that this one question and no other is to be given the child and she is to know about what time it is due, preferably early in the lesson. That arrangement will lift a load of fear and dread. After the recitation is over the child is to do a bit of work on the board, something also agreed upon, or keep track of name cards, or reference books. A bit of service for the common good will help this situation.

Nobody is to shout at such a child, nor laugh at her, nor scold her, nor call her names that reflect upon the power of her intelligence. It often happens that the condition that drags out the wrath of an adult upon the head of a child is altogether due to the attitude of that adult.

Confidence will destroy fear. Plan to create confidence in the mind of the frightened child, boy or girl, and treat this fear as you would any other deplorable affliction, with intelligence and understanding assistance.

A SHORT LIFE AND A GAY ONE

The turkey's life is seldom long; He flaunts awhile amid the strong

Of minor fowl about the farm, Who envy him his grace and charm,

But know that in three months at most He'll be a crisp and dripping roast

To feed, upon Thanksgiving day, A happy family, while they say

For years perhaps will hop about And drag their dull existence out.

Yet even could the turkey know How very shortly he must go

To glut a family's appetite I think his heart would still be light.

What matter, if one's life be brief If it is thrown in high relief

Far better, while one lingers here, To have a proud a gay career

Than wear one's heart and soul away For many and many a weary day.

The turkey has a short career But he is happy while he's here!

THE INROADS OF AGE

We haven't heard anything about Jackie Coogan for a long time. He's probably retired.

PROOF

We cannot but take Mr. Coolidge at his word. He's going to spend his vacation in a state which hasn't been doubtful since the Civil War.

SUSPICIOUS

The Treasury Department says that Russia must take back five millions in gold. Was that money intended as a campaign contribution, too?

WHAT NEXT?

Keats' lines on his looking into Chapman's Homer are well remembered. He said:

"Then felt I like some watcher of the skies

When a new planet swims into his ken;

Or like stout Cortez when with eagle eyes

He stared at the Pacific, and all his men

Look'd at each other with a wild surmise,

Silent, upon a peak in Darien."

It was with some such emotion that the public read the other day in the press reports the story of how men and women moving about in London were seen in the little village of Hartsdale, New York, their actions being imperfectly but yet unmistakably recorded.

And how it was done was stranger still. The light from the action of these people in London was translated into sound much like the humming of an insect. This sound or low buzzing was sent through the air by radio, itself no mean accomplishment. Arrived in America the sound was again translated back into light and the gestures of the London people were seen by the New York folk.

All this rests upon the amazing fact that light and sound are one. For some time the representation of the sound of the voice has been recorded in waves upon the celluloid film, such as is used in moving pictures, and that sound has again been retranslated into light.

This writer has personally assisted in this operation, and has not only seen himself, but heard himself upon the movie screen.

But now such sounds have been carried from one side of the Atlantic to the other.

The laying of the trans-Atlantic cable and the successful transmission of a message over it were hailed as constituting an epochal event in the world's forward march.

The recording of sound by the phonograph by which the tones of your voice might be as legibly written upon a cylinder as the lines from your pen upon a page of paper was hailed as remarkable.

The transmission of the voice by telephone was an enormous step forward and the telephone has already become an integral part of the business world.

But this television is based upon the essential transmissibility of light and sound waves and the amazing fields of speculation.

Thoughts On Modern Life

THE CHIVALRY OF THE AIR

Even the most sordid warfare cannot wholly obliterate from the human heart the high instinct of chivalry.

Up through the cracks and crevices between the burial stones that lie in grim reminder of atrocities that shame the race, bright little flowers of lovely gestures to enemies spring.

As I mingle among the young veterans of the World war and turn an ear to their reminiscences, I think I sense a higher frequency and a more hearty quality of chivalry among the air fighters than among the land fighters.

I hesitate to say this, and I hasten to say that, if it be true, it is in no sense an indication of a difference in quality between the men who fight in the air and the men who fight on the land.

Man for man, the land men can match the air men in wits and worthiness, in character and consciousness—in the basic personal impulse to chivalry.

If, proportionately, chivalry between enemies bulked larger in the air than upon land, in the late war, it was due to the difference in the methods of fighting, not to a difference in the fighters themselves.

Fighting on land has become a vast, impersonal, mechanized mass operation.

Somehow, inside the justifiable and large scale operations of modern life, we must manage to organize our lives in smaller and more manageable units.

There is no chance for the saving spirit of chivalry to fly beside the shells of long range guns across tragic miles to unseen enemies.

It is only in occasional close encounters that the benediction of chivalry can fall upon the blood-stained ventures of land fighting. And even here the mass character of the modern war gives the quality of the individual but little chance.

It is different in the air.

Here again the individual fighter appears; something of the face-to-face combats of ancient knights marks the combats of the air.

And it is the same story in peace.

When we move from small scale communion or combat between individuals to the large scale communion or combat of crowds, the lovely delicacies and the creative touch of the individual are
